Victoria Police Alerted For California Killer

8 Slayings Traced To 'Mad Dog' Hitchhiker

Police forces from Mexico to Canada, including the Victoria department, were alerted today by the F.B.I. to be on the lookout for a "mad dog" hitch-hike slayer of eight persons in one of the biggest manhunts since the day of John Dillinger and "Pretty Boy" Floyd.

Police Find Plaque Lost With 'Stone'

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard announced tonight it has found what is believed to be the descriptive plaque, lifted from Westminster Abbey Christmas morning along with the missing Coronation Stone.

The small oak plaque inscribed with the history of the Scottish Stone of Scone was found on a bombed site near the Abbey. Both the plaque and the priceless 438-pound stone have been the objects of a country-wide police hunt.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said the plaque was found Saturday in the debris of a bombed building in Tufnell Street near the Abbey. But thorough sifting of the ruins failed to disclose the stone on which 27 British sovereigns have taken their coronation oaths.

The officials said confirmation that the plaque came from the Coronation Chair—beneath the seat of which the Stone of Scone was placed—could not be made until tomorrow, when Abbey experts will examine it.

B.C. Youth Survives 150-Foot Canyon Fall

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A 15-year-old Vancouver boy was recovering today after he fell 150 feet into Capilano Canyon during a weekend hiking trip.

Gordon Bradshaw said he plunged into the canyon Saturday afternoon after slipping on a frost-covered log. Bradshaw said he fell on a rocky ledge, with his legs in the fast-flowing Capilano River.

Two older brothers summoned help. Firemen dropped a rope to the youth who fastened it around his waist and was hauled out of the canyon.

Snow Delays Liner

HALIFAX (BUP)—A snowstorm prevented the Cunard liner Ascania from docking in Halifax Sunday and she didn't tie up to her pier until this morning. The 24,000-ton ship, from the United Kingdom, landed more than 500 passengers.

Pimpily-faced ex-convict William E. Cook, alias Billy Cook and Billy Reese, aged 22, admitted to a California sheriff's deputy whom he overpowered during the week-end that he had killed seven persons, including an entire Illinois family of five. Shortly afterward he killed an eighth victim. He is believed to be riding with a probable ninth victim.

While the search for the "mad dog" was concentrated in barren reaches of northwestern Mexico, R.C.M.P. have informed the city police that they have information that the killer may have crossed into Canada from the State of Washington.

Cook has been described to city police as being 150-160 pounds, blue eyes, the right one made of glass, wearing glasses, sandy-haired and stockily built. He has a tattoo on his right arm "R.R.S." and "W.F.G." is tattooed on his left arm. He was wearing light dress trousers when last seen.

BLTYHE, Calif. (AP)—The frantic, bloody trail of bad man Bill Cook wound today through the barren reaches of northwestern Mexico.

Mexican police joined the far-flung search for the boastful killer after the automobile of one of his victims was found abandoned yesterday 40 miles south of the border.

The sedan of Robert H. Dewey, 32, of Seattle, was discovered by Police Chief Guy Woodward of El Centro, Calif., who on a hunch drove south from the border town Sunday afternoon. Dewey's body was found near Ogilby, Calif., Saturday in a sheriff's car after Cook had kidnapped, tied and thrown out deputy Homer Waldrup, 27, of Blythe. Earlier, Cook was sought throughout Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma for questioning about the missing family of Carl Mosser, his wife and three children from Atwood, Ill.

"I've murdered seven other people and I would just as soon murder you," Waldrup quoted the desperado.

$750,000 School Program

New schools to cost $750,000 will be built in the Courtenay district.

Courtenay School District No. 71 has instructed Binney, Wade & Stockkill of Victoria to prepare sketch plans for seven new schools and additions to existing schools in the up-land area.

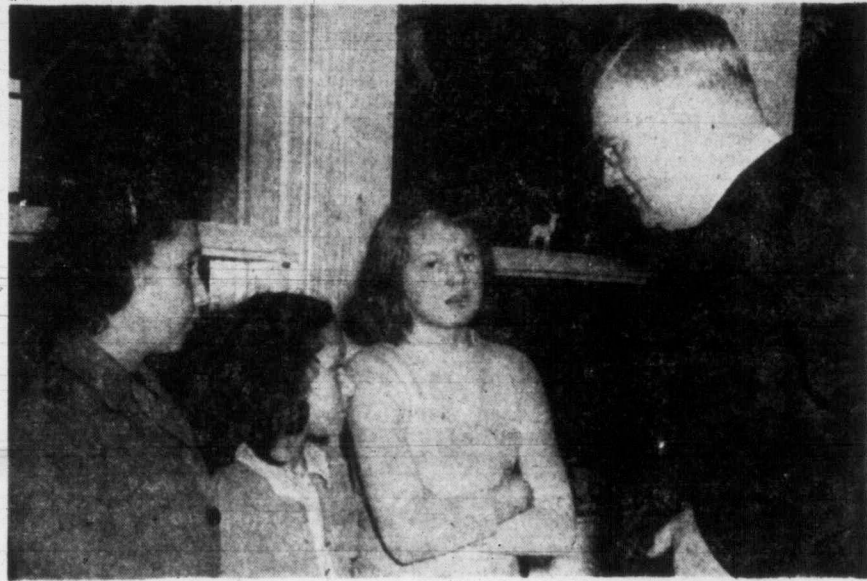

A money-by-law will have to be approved by the Courtenay district ratepayers before construction of the buildings can be started.

Safe Crackers In Vancouver Active

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Safe crackers were active in Vancouver during the week-end.

Police reported this morning that the safe of the R.C.A. Victor offices was broken into, but nothing taken. The thieves tore out the rear end of the safe, but found nothing inside.

Two other office safes in the same building were cracked over the week-end. Police said it is not known how much money was taken.

Ban On Lights In Britain For Advertisement

LONDON (CP)—Britain banned all advertisement and display lighting Saturday in a move to preserve her dwindling supply of precious coal.

The return to wartime restrictions—effective today—means that such centres as Piccadilly Circus will be dimly-lit caverns. Until the Labor government feels that the fuel shortage has been overcome there will be no more lighted movie and theatre marquees and only dark shop windows.

The Ministry of Fuel and Power prohibited all advertisement and display lighting which uses electricity, gas, oil and even candlelight.

Purpose of the ban is to save coal which is required to generate electricity and make gas. The Fuel Ministry explained that the ban on oil and candles was to forestall a run which would lead to shortages. Proposals to curtail railway service also are being considered.

The move followed Prime Minister Attlee's warning last week to miners' leaders that the country would face a major fuel crisis unless they raised an extra 3,000,000 tons by the end of April. In response to Attlee's appeal miners at some 690 pits out of 835 worked a voluntary shift Saturday.

And at Hucknall Colliery near Nottingham today miners sacrificed their Sunday for the first time on record to dig coal.

Britain Asks New Peace Bid

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Britain called on the United Nations today to make another effort for a Korean cease-fire, but warned Communist China that it might force a break with the free world if it insisted on acceptance of its own terms.

In a major policy declaration, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb at the same time pledged British support as long as U.N. troops continued to fight in Korea. He spoke before the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee.

It was on her prediction that "January 9 will be the Doomsday" that the extremists moved into the dilapidated cottage. Only one man outside the religious sect had crossed the threshold of the cottage since the group closed themselves

Five Injured In Two-Car Crash

Five persons were injured in two week-end accidents in Victoria and Saanich.

Arthur Creelman, 1175 Wilkinson, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a badly fractured right leg and chest injuries.

Andrew Kurek, 1205 Fernwood, and John Rynski, 439 Quebec, were taken to Jubilee Hospital, suffering from multiple lacerations.

Mrs. Carolyn Giles, 590 Bolekine, was also taken to Jubilee. She suffered severe facial lacerations, bruises and shock.

Mrs. Patricia Dye, 2547 Government, was treated for a leg injury.

Condition of Kurek, Creelman and Mrs. Giles, still in hospital, is reported "good."

Police said heavy damage was done when cars driven by Creelman, and Rynski, collided at Fort and Blanshard, at 2:40 Sunday morning. Kurek was in the Rynski car.

Mrs. Giles was a passenger in one of two cars in a violent head-on collision on Gorge Road West about midnight Saturday. Saanich police said the cars, driven in opposite directions, were in charge of Sidney E. Dye, husband of Mrs. Dye, and Paul Hillary Latter, 608 Craigflower. Police said about $600 damage was done. Latter's old-model car being classed as a total wreck.

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—A wind-lashed blaze cut a $1,000,000 hole in the heart of this south-central Virginia furniture centre Sunday night and early today before it was brought under control.

OBSERVE 'FINAL' SUNDAY

Tuesday Is Doomsday For Strange B.C. Sect

KEREMEOS, B.C. (CP)—The "Children of Light" counted the hours today, awaiting the end of everything.

Their leader has told them the world will end tomorrow. Because they believed it was their last Sunday, the 30 members of the strange religious sect prayed long and loud Sunday.

From dawn to well into the night their chants echoed from the six-room cottage where they started their vigil 14 days ago.

The leader of the white-garbed fanatics—men, women and children—is Mrs. Grace Agnes Carlson, a grey-haired, middle-aged woman who came to this interior British Columbia town about four years ago from Birch Hills, Sask.

It was on her prediction that "January 9 will be the Doomsday" that the extremists moved into the dilapidated cottage.

Only one man outside the religious sect had crossed the threshold of the cottage since the group closed themselves from the world. He is Don Carlson of Penticton, B.C., son of the leader.

He described the group inside as "very sincere and humble." He said they are not fasting, but are living on sugar and molasses, a diet which was decided on following a dream by Mrs. Carlson.

The woman became leader of the sect more than a year ago, when she broke with members of the Pentecostal Church here.

She first predicted the end would come Dec. 23 and her devout followers trekked to the top of the mountain near the town, which bears a mysterious "K" on its face.

They spent a night there, then returned, a new date fixed for the destruction of the planet earth.

The giant letter "K", formed by two massive rock slides, is taken by sect members as a sign for "kingdom," and they quote: "For lo, the Kingdom of God is at hand."

Allies Yield Big Rail Depot To Communists

Enemy Entering Ruins Of Wonju

TOKYO (AP)—Allied rear-guard forces today yielded the ruins of Wonju to an overwhelming force of Chinese and North Korean Communist troops after a bitter holding action that bought precious time.

Red troops entered the burning road and rail centre as United Nations forces withdrew to new positions.

The Allies had fought fiercely for the city, 55 miles southeast of Seoul, to buy time for the main body of U.N. forces to retreat southwestward from Seoul on the road leading to the southern port of Pusan.

Wonju's defenders battled Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night to keep the Red hordes from sweeping into the gateway city to the heart of South Korea. A web of roads lead from Wonju into the interior.

Held at bay by the defenders were seven Chinese armies, possibly 210,000 men, and the Korean Red comrades.

Then the defenders abandoned the town and its airstrip. Allied planes strafed and fire-bombed Wonju after the withdrawal. An ammunition train was blown up.

U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said Allied casualties were light during the holding action. Headquarters said fighting continued in the Wonju area, east and west of the city.

One battalion counter-attacked Monday morning, but pulled back after a brief fight. Planes attacked Reds on ridges on Wonju's flanks.

The Allied rear-guard still was fighting desperately to block the Reds from a southward sweep that would menace the main body of U.N. troops.

Gen. MacArthur's summary earlier had reported U.N. troops north of Wonju had withdrawn, but gave no indication they had given up the city. About noon, a U.S. Eighth Army spokesman had said: "As of the early hours today (Monday) we still controlled Wonju."

HEAVY RED LOSSES

MacArthur's summary said heavy casualties were inflicted on the Reds.

The Communists had penetrated the devastated city's outskirts Sunday only to be hurled out by the counter-attack.

So fierce was Allied resistance that air observers saw Red troops digging in two miles east of the town. In one fight, Wonju's defenders killed 470 North Koreans and took 74 prisoners.

Associated Press correspondent Don Huth, at U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, reported the siege of Wonju Sunday was fierce. East of the town, the Reds blew up 27 railroad cars in the hopes of thus depriving the defenders of needed supplies.

After failing in Sunday morning's brief penetration, the Reds poured intense small-arms and automatic weapons fire into Wonju between 7 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

In west Korea, Red troops were fanning out from Suwon, 20 miles south of Seoul. U.N. rear-guard patrols spotted Red forces 17 miles southeast of Suwon.

There were no contacts reported Monday either with Chinese advancing down the west coast, or with North Koreans moving south down the mountainous east coast.

Truman Reveals Bid To Russia In Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today the United States is ready to negotiate "honorable settlements" with Russia but "we will not engage in appeasement."

Truman coupled this statement in his "State-of-the-Union" message to Congress with an assertion that the United States will vastly expand plane and tank production to uphold the democracies.

Truman said American industry must be capable of producing 50,000 modern military planes and 35,000 tanks a year.

His message was delivered personally to a joint session of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

PLANS TAX BOOST

Truman told the legislators that in order to strengthen the U.S. he will shortly ask "a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defence effort."

He did not say how much new revenue he wanted or from what kind of taxes, leaving those details to later special messages.

Much of his address was concerned with the grave international situation and he appealed to the legislators:

The 50,000-planes-a-year figure used by Truman was the same goal the late President Roosevelt set in May, 1940, when the United States began going full scale into defensive preparations for a war that hit one and a half years later.

The present tank production program calls for about 4,000 tanks, the majority of them medium, 47-ton vehicles.

Truman said the 82nd Congress "faces as grave a task as any Congress in the history of our republic."

FREE PEOPLE'S TEST

Truman said its actions will measure the ability of a free people "to meet a deadly challenge to their way of life."

Truman said U.S. troops are fighting in Korea with United Nations Allies because the aggression in that country "is part of the attempt of the Russian communistic leadership to take over the world, step by step."

He said the free world has resources "far greater than those of the Soviet dictatorship."

And he declared: "Peace is precious to us. It is the way of life we strive for with all the strength and wisdom we possess. But more precious than peace are freedom and justice."

"We will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

Truman, in what might have been a reply to defence policy arguments of former Republican President Herbert Hoover and to Senator Robert Taft (R-O.) declared:

"Strategically, economically and morally, the defence of Europe is part of our own defence."

"That is why we have joined with the countries of Europe in the North Atlantic Treaty, pledging ourselves to work with them."

"There has been much discussion recently over whether the European countries are willing to defend themselves. Their actions are answering this question."

As to negotiations for peaceful settlements with Russia, Truman said:

"We are willing, as we always have been to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union. But we will not engage in appeasement."

"The Soviet rulers have made it clear that we must have strength as well as right on our side. If we build our strength—begin building it—the Soviet rulers may face the facts and lay aside their plans to take over the world."

"That is what we hope will happen, and that is what we are trying to bring about."

"That is the only realistic road to peace."

Truman Lists 10-point Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, in his "State of the Union" message to Congress today, submitted a 10-point legislative program in connection with the war crisis as follows:

Truman submitted a 10-point legislative program calling for:

"First, appropriations for our military build-up.

"Second, extension and revision of the Selective Service Act.

"Third, military and economic aid to help build up the strength of the free world.

"Fourth, revision and extension of the authority to expand production and to stabilize prices, wages, and rents.

"Fifth, improvement of our agricultural laws, to help obtain the kinds of farm products we need for the defence effort.

"Sixth, improvement of our labor laws to help provide stable labor-management relations and to make sure that we have steady production in this emergency.

"Seventh, housing and training of defence workers, and the full use of all our manpower resources.

"Eighth, means for increasing the supply of doctors, nurses, and other trained medical personnel critically needed for the defence effort.

"Ninth, aid to the states to meet the most urgent needs of our elementary and secondary schools.

"Tenth, a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defence effort."

France Gives 'Ike' First Europe Units

PARIS (AP)—France today formally gave Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the first contingent of European troops that will serve under his flag as supreme Atlantic commander.

The famed leader of the Second World War arrived in Paris Sunday to head an international force to defend the West against Communism. At once he served warning that any country tempted to test the power of the West had better think long and carefully about starting anything.

Eisenhower's arrival here marks his first formal visit to one of the European powers that will give him men and machines for the army the 12-power Atlantic community had asked him to create to fend off aggression from the east.

After a quick tour of the North Atlantic treaty countries, Eisenhower is scheduled to return to Washington late this month. He comes back to Europe around mid-February to begin the task of putting into full operation his Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe.

In tones as confident as though he had 100 divisions at his command—instead of the dozen or so ready for him to lead—Eisenhower declared Sunday:

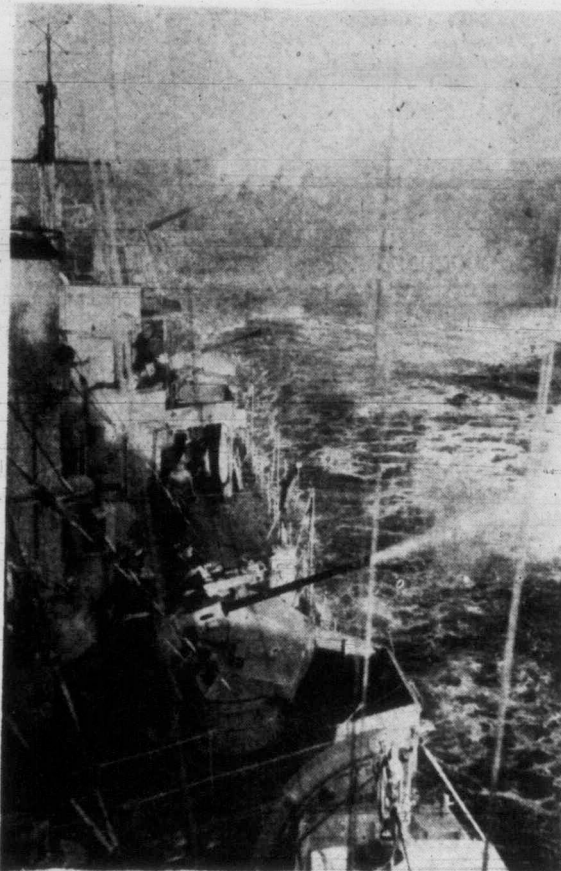

"Aroused and united, there is nothing which the nations of the Atlantic community cannot achieve. Let those who might be tempted to put this power to the test ponder well the lessons of history. The cause of freedom can never be defeated."

Teen-Aged Knifer Sought In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Police today were searching for a 17-year-old youth who knifed a Portland, Ore., youth here over the week-end.

Orville John Luther, 16 of Portland, suffered two stab wounds in the back. He told police that he and a companion were walking home Saturday night when accosted by a 17-year-old boy.

Nearing Korean war theatre, men of Canadian destroyer Nooka practice anti-aircraft shooting in mid-Pacific. Halifax-based warship will relieve destroyer Sioux, shortly to return to Esquimalt.

Great White Ways In Britain Made Black By Ruling

LONDON (CP)—Britain banned all advertisement and display lighting Saturday in a move to preserve her dwindling supply of precious coal.

LAW MAY INTERVENE

Truant Officer Likely To End Vigil By Sect

KEREMEOS, B.C. (CP)—Legal action today threatened to end the vigil of 35 white-robed members of the "children of light."

They went into seclusion Dec. 26 and it was reported they were awaiting the world's end, but Mrs. Grace Carlson, their grey-haired leader, said:

"We hope to meet with God, but we don't know in what form; only God knows that."

She denied she had called her followers together for the end of the world, but said "we expect the second coming of Christ, but not the way the rest of the world does."

It was reported today that truant officers may take action to remove several "teen-agers" children from the isolated fruit farm cottage. They failed to re-

EGGS, TOMATOES, LIVE DUCK THROWN AT VARSITY RECTOR

GLASGOW (AP)—Dr. John MacCormick took office as rector of Glasgow University today—in a shower of tomatoes, fire crackers and rotten eggs. Rattles, bells, shouts and piercing blasts of a trumpet drowned out the speech-making.

A live duck flung on the platform by angry students lurched around under the feet of the assembled dignitaries. Donald MacMillan, president of the Student Council, opened his mouth to remonstrate and was hit full in the face with a bag of flour.

When it was all over Dr. MacCormick told reporters mildly:

"One of the liveliest installations I've ever seen."

Dr. MacCormick is chairman of the Scottish Covenant Association, which demands a greater measure of Home Rule for the Highlanders.

BRITAIN TELLS RED CHINA OF DANGERS

Jebb Warns Of Diplomatic Break With Free World; Favors Israeli Plan For Cease-Fire

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Britain called on the United Nations today to make another effort for a Korean cease-fire, but warned Communist China that it might force a break with the free world if it insisted on acceptance of its own terms.

In a major policy declaration, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb at the same time pledged British support as long as U.N. troops continued to fight in Korea. He spoke before the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee.

Jebb backed the United States demand that a cease-fire must come before negotiations can begin on other problems.

Jebb warned the committee that any decision it takes may result in a "complete cleavage between China and the free world" and said such a break would have a "dreadful effect." For this reason, he said, the U.N. should weigh its actions carefully.

"Look well before you leap is a wise maxim in foreign affairs," Jebb said. "If we do leap we should all leap together."

The British delegate said there can be no peaceful solution of the Korean problem if the Peking regime ignores the purpose of the U.N. action in Korea. He expressed doubt that any results would be achieved by a new cease-fire effort, but said every effort should be made to find a peaceful solution.

Jebb said he favored a seven-point proposal put forward by Israel last week, calling for a solution of the Korean problem by stages. The first step would be a cease-fire. Others would include a progressive withdrawal of all non-Korean troops, and elections under U.N. supervision.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik, sneaking after Jebb, said the Israeli proposal would not bring peace to Korea because it did not contemplate the immediate withdrawal of foreign troops.

Malik rebuked Jebb for having alleged that the Chinese Communists were flouting the U.N. "It is time to stop insulting the Chinese government," Malik said.

The committee then adjourned until Thursday, as proposed by Jebb.

Youbou Man's Son Wounded In Korea

WASHINGTON (CP)—Cpl. John McKitch, son of Alex McKitch, Youbou, B.C., is a Korean war casualty, the war department reported today.

He was wounded in action while serving with the U.S. Army the department said, but no details were given.

Two Spies Shot Dead

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslav police announced today they shot to death two alleged Bulgarian spies and captured 11 others smuggled into this country during the last two months.

That's 50 miles southwest of Wonju and on the main route from the burned and abandoned South Korean capital to Taejeon and Pusan. It was at Osan that the first U.S. soldier to fight in the Korean war was killed last July.

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert reported in a delayed dispatch that the main forces Sunday had pulled back south of Osan, 28 air miles south of Seoul.

The Allies had fought fiercely for the city, 55 miles southeast of Seoul, to buy time for the main body of U.N. forces to retreat southwestward from Seoul on the road leading to the south-east port of Pusan.

There was speculation here, both official and unofficial, that the 2nd Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry may already have taken up positions in the perimeter defenses, forming a rough semi-circle some 50 miles from Pusan.

OTTAWA (CP)—A United Nations retreat into the old Pusan beachhead of Korea loomed today and brought with it the prospect Canadian troops within a short time will face battle on the defence perimeter fronting that vital port.

There was speculation here, both official and unofficial, that the 2nd Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry may already have taken up positions in the perimeter defenses, forming a rough semi-circle some 50 miles from Pusan.

Items to be affected will be suits, neckties, shirts and underwear. Socks may jump 50 per cent.

Nation Girds For Total War, Truman Tells U.S. Congress

Ready For Peace Pacts, But 'No Appeasement'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today Russia's leaders are out "to take over the world, step by step," and warned: "We will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

In a personally delivered "State-of-the-Union" message to Congress, Truman said, too, the United States is willing, as we have always been, to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union.

"But we will not engage in appeasement."

Truman's 3,500-word message was first of all a defence of his foreign policy which is geared to the idea of building American and Western European strength to the point where Russia will respect it.

It was, second, a general outline of what has been done so far in the way of military mobilization and a broad sketching of what is to come.

"We are preparing for full war-time mobilization, if that should become necessary," Truman said.

"We are going to produce all the weapons and equipment that such an armed force will need," he added. "Furthermore, we will make weapons for our allies and weapons for our own reserve supplies. On top of this, we will build the capacity to turn out on short notice arms and supplies that may be needed for a full scale war."

As part of that preparation, Truman said he wants changes in the draft law, higher taxes, greater wage-price controls powers, "improvement" of labor and farm laws, aid to education and federal aid for training medical men and women.

He gave no details on any of these. Precisely what he proposes will come out piece-meal later in special messages and through submission of specific legislative proposals to the Congress.

Truman pledged that the U.S. will not abandon its leadership of "the community of free nations."

Replying, in effect, to recent demands by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Robert A. Taft that the U.S. limit its military aid to western Europe, Truman declared America's national security is too deeply involved to allow any withdrawal of help.

In his report on mobilization efforts, Truman said American industry must be made capable of producing 50,000 planes and 35,000 tanks a year. But he said he hoped there would never be any necessity to produce that many.

Truman told the legislators that in order to strengthen the U.S. he will shortly ask "a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defence effort."

He did not say how much new revenue he wanted or from what kind of taxes, leaving those details to later special messages.

Much of his address was concerned with the grave international situation and he appealed to the legislators:

"The present tank production program calls for about 4,000 tanks, the majority of them medium, 47-ton vehicles."

Victoria Flowers Scoff At Winter

As though it were spring or summer, Mrs. Angus McKay today collected a huge bouquet of flowers from her Olympia Street garden. Chrysanthemums, jasmine, roses, daisies and erigerons were among them. Also in bloom in her garden are heathers, snapdragons, Lenten lily that should not bloom until spring, primroses, polyanthus, pansies, dianthus, baby's breath and a delphinium showing color. There would be more but Mr. and Mrs. McKay have cut plants back rigorously to promote spring growth.

Coal Dealers Stand Alone In Frowning On Weather

"This weather is not good enough for us," Victoria fuel dealers chorused this morning as they compared the balmy weather with that of the same time last year.

Nevertheless none of them wanted to go through the trials and tribulations of last January.

To date this month is what the residents like to consider is an average Victoria winter. Temperatures have not dropped below freezing for days, there was a total of more than nine hours of bright sunshine over the weekend, and flowers are blooming from Esquimalt to Sidney.

Fuel dealers report average business, proceeding at the normal pace, with in most instances more fuel than orders.

At this time last year difficulties piled one on top of the other and each one aggravated the next.

'Pats' May Go Into Action Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—A United Nations retreat into the old Pusan beachhead of Korea loomed today and brought with it the prospect Canadian troops within a short time will face battle on the defence perimeter fronting that vital port.

There was speculation here, both official and unofficial, that the 2nd Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry may already have taken up positions in the perimeter defenses, forming a rough semi-circle some 50 miles from Pusan.

'Ike' Gets First European Troops From France

World War II Leader In Paris

PARIS (AP)—France today formally gave Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the first contingent of European troops that will serve under his flag as supreme Atlantic commander.

The famed leader of the Second World War arrived in Paris Sunday to head an international force to defend the West against Communism. At once he served warning that any country tempted to test the power of the West had better think long and carefully about starting anything.

Eisenhower's arrival here marks his first formal visit to one of the European powers that will give him men and machines for the army the 12-power Atlantic community had asked him to create to fend off aggression from the east.

After a quick tour of the North Atlantic treaty countries, Eisenhower is scheduled to return to Washington late this month. He comes back to Europe around mid-February to begin the task of putting into full operation his Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe.

In tones as confident as though he had 100 divisions at his command—instead of the dozen or so ready for him to lead—Eisenhower declared Sunday:

"Aroused and united, there is nothing which the nations of the Atlantic community cannot achieve. Let those who might be tempted to put this power to the test ponder well the lessons of history. The cause of freedom can never be defeated."

He did not say how much new revenue he wanted or from what kind of taxes, leaving those details to later special messages.

Much of his address was concerned with the grave international situation and he appealed to the legislators:

"The present tank production program calls for about 4,000 tanks, the majority of them medium, 47-ton vehicles."

WHY HALT FERRY?

M.L.A. Says Big Sum Laid Out On Wharves

Why is the provincial government halting the Brentwood Mill Bay ferry service after spending between $250,000 and $300,000 on improving the ferry wharves?

This question is asked by Saanich M.L.A., Arthur Ash, in a letter mailed today to Public Works Minister E. C. Carson.

"It seems to me there has been lack of foresight in the matter," Mr. Ash says.

It was only a short time ago that the government spent taxpayers' money to modernize the approaches to the ferry wharves, and it was known at the time that the contract for the service expired last month.

"Steps should have been taken, therefore, to see that a ferry would be in operation after December, 1950," the M.L.A. says.

Mr. Ash points to the conveniently afforded the people of the Greater Victoria area as well as those of North Saanich by the service. It was important also to the tourist industry.

PEARSON MAY STAY IN N.Y.

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson virtually wrote off his proposed flight to London today as China's march through Korea threw new crises at the western world.

The official word here was that his duties as a member of the United Nations cease-fire committee on Korea are keeping Pearson in New York.

Mr. Ash points to the con-

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SLOT MACHINES

WHILE VISITING in Seattle for a few days this week, I happened to be in the neighborhood of one of those establishments devoted to slot and pin-ball machines of various kinds. The resultant din was amazing, as was the stream of patrons passing through its doors. I commented on it to my friend.

And what amazed me even more was the extraordinary variety of wares which can now be procured in the United States through slot-machines, quite apart from those of the pin-ball entertainment—or "one-armed bandit"—variety. My friend, who recently returned from a lengthy stay in Chicago, told me that it was nothing to see silk stockings, clothing, books and newspapers sold via these vending machines.

INSURANCE AGENTS

SHE HAD ALSO seen machines devoted to the selling of life insurance. This scheme, thought up by some "live wire" agent, is so arranged that weekly or monthly payments can be made by the assured into a slot-machine, thus leaving the agent free to canvass more potential clients!

In the restrooms of the "windy city," soap, towel and a hair brush—this latter on loan and automatically sterilized after each borrowing—can be obtained in return for a coin in the slot, while shoe-shining by machine has become so general as to worry the ubiquitous "shoe-shine boy."

BARBER AND BAIT

BUT ONE of the oddest uses to which slot-machines have been put is that invented by a barber of Northampton, Mass. That enterprising tonsorial artist has patented a machine which supplies a tin of live bait for fishermen in return for a coin. I don't know how successful it is from the fisherman's angle, but one thing I am certain of—it provides a never-ending topic for conversation on the part of the barber!

The "automat," where food of all kinds is served from slot-machines is a familiar sight in the United States. I first saw one in New York and was astonished at the wide variety of hot and cold dishes and hot and cold drinks obtainable by this method. But I understand such "automats" were in wide use in Germany 50 years ago.

BRITISH ORIGIN

IN THAT CONNECTION I recalled an article which appeared in an English magazine a few years ago claiming that the "automat," so often considered an American invention, had its origin in Britain. Nearly 50 years ago an automatic buffet was opened in the Southwark district of London, which served ham, roll and butter for "tuppence in the slot," Swiss roll for the same sum, or a pot of tea, roll and butter, with jam or sardines, all for 4d.

I don't know if the Southwark automatic is still going, but a good many Londoners would no doubt queue up willingly for any slot machine that gave that much food for that price in these days of shortages and soaring prices.

STREET-LAMP DEVICE

SOUTHWARK ALSO has the distinction of having—even earlier than the food automat—what was probably the only street-lamp slot-machine on record. By putting a penny in the slot, passersby could get a pot of boiling water for a halfpenny, while a penny inserted in another slot produced a compressed tablet of tea or cocoa, with sugar and milk.

It was worked by means of a 20-gallon tank of water, built into the lamp-post, a trickle of water being forced over the flame several times to boiling point when the penny was put in the slot. In the year 1829, a London coffee-house had a device which supplied a pipeful of tobacco for a penny, whereas the first modern type slot-machine was not patented in the United States until 1884.

EVEN MORE ANCIENT

BUT LIKE so many of the so-called new things of today, the origin of the slot-machine can be traced back much further even than to those I have mentioned in Britain, where, incidentally, the amount of money put into vending machines is colossal. In one year, 60,000,000 people in Britain put pennies of a total weight of 54 tons into weighing machines—alone, quite apart from those vending matches, cigarettes and sweets.

The history of the slot-machine goes back to 200 B.C. when the ancient Egyptians had them in primitive form. Ctesibius, the inventor of the water-clock and various hydraulic instruments, made such a machine for worshippers of his day. When a five-drachma piece was inserted in the slot, it released a little purifying water for use in the temple. Who said there was anything new under the sun?

Invites 'Best Citizens' To Tour As 'Horrible Examples'

Some of Victoria's "best citizens" are becoming annoyed as they open their mail these days. A new form of chain letter is in circulation. It purports to be written by a minister with an outstanding record on the temperance platform who has made famous such subjects as "Down with the Drink Devil," "Rum and Rebellion."

Then he deplores the loss of a subject he used as a "horrible example," a brilliant young man who became a mere shell of his former self who would sit on the platform with the lecturer, gibbering foolishly, drooling at the

Condemned Man Seeks Reprieve

QUEBEC (CP)—Mr. Justice Albert Seigney today took under advisement a petition seeking a stay of execution for J. Albert Guay, 33-year-old jeweler due to be hanged Friday for his part in Quebec's time-bomb case that cost 23 lives.

Mr. Justice Seigney said after the hearing of the petition in chambers that he would give his decision tomorrow at the latest. The petition was presented by Gerard Levesque who defended Guay at his trial early last year and was opposed by Solicitor-General Antoine Rivard.

Advanced French Courses At College

Victoria College evening division is offering first class instruction in French to 20 persons with elementary knowledge of the language.

Prof. R. T. Wallace, director, reports Prof. Claude Trel of the college, French-born, Sorbonne educated, starting at 8 Wednesday will conduct a course to include pronunciation, dictation and conversation. The 15-lesson course will include reading and listening to plays, fables, poems and songs.

MEN'S CLUB MEETS

The Men's Club of St. Martin-in-the-Fields will meet in the parish hall, Obed Avenue, Wednesday at 8. Major D. L. McKeand will be the speaker.

Twenty-eight students of the National Defence College of Canada will arrive on the coast next weekend, but their only call on Vancouver Island will be a brief visit to Nanaimo and to the new H. R. MacMillan pulp mill at Harmae on Saturday.

The group, consisting of high-ranking officers of the three services and of civilians from key governmental departments, will travel from Vancouver to Nanaimo in high-speed rescue launches.

Last year's course called at Victoria and toured defence facilities here several months ago.

ALASKA NEXT

Next Monday, the party will fly north from Vancouver for a three-day tour of Alaskan centres, returning to Canada at Whitehorse, Y.T., where they will spend two days inspecting R.C. A.F. and army installations in that area.

Included in the list of students are Brig. M. P. Bogert, who until recently was senior officer of the army's Western Command, and Capt. M. A. Medland, who was skipper of the R.C.N. destroyer Cayuga before she sailed to the Korean war theatre.

Officers Named By Ex-Civil Servants

Pakistan Boycott Of Sessions Ends

Commonwealth Conference Has Full Membership First Time

LONDON (CP)—The Commonwealth Prime Ministers, reunited at last, started talking today about two major Asian trouble spots—Korea and Kashmir.

Their action posed a conciliation challenge for India's Prime Minister Nehru, would-be peace maker who seeks to pour oil on the troubled waters of Korea.

As the conference of Commonwealth leaders entered its second week, a full membership was in attendance for the first time. Pakistan's head man, Liaquat Ali Khan, ended his boycott and arrived in London last night after his colleagues agreed to discuss informally his country's dispute with neighboring India over Kashmir.

That put Nehru on the spot. He had tried to keep the Kashmir issue out of the conference. The Indian prime minister meanwhile continued his so-far unrewarded efforts to convince the conferees that a new effort must be made to reach an understanding with China's Communists.

With Kashmir set for informal discussions, attempts to weld a unified Commonwealth policy on both the Communists and Korea remained the major item on the agenda for the conference's plenary sessions.

Such a policy gained new urgency from the circulation of proposals by the United States, sent to 30 countries, that the Peiping regime be branded in the United Nations as aggressors.

Saanich To Start Drainage Work

Any possible measures that will alleviate drainage problems in Saanich will be taken soon, Reeve Joseph W. Casey said today.

"We can't do much at present," he said. "Almost all the locations where work should be done are under several feet of water. But anything that can be done will be done shortly."

At the municipal elections in Saanich in December ratepayers voted in favor of a referendum on allotting two mills for drainage purposes. This would provide about $28,000 per year for this work.

Main trouble spots each year are at Colquitz, Swan Lake, Blenkinsop and Marigold.

New CPR Freighter Expected Jan. 21

A three-year-old freighter recently purchased by the Canadian Pacific's B.C. Coast Service for operation on the Yukon run will arrive here from the east coast about Jan. 21, Capt. O. J. Williams, manager, said today.

The Vancouver-built ship will replace the old Nootka which is now owned and operated by a shipping firm in Peru.

Operated by Clarke Steamship Co. in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the vessel is now named Island Connector. Her name likely will be changed when she goes into service for the C.P.R.

She is smaller than the Nootka, but can carry about 1,800 dead-weight tons of cargo.

A certain amount of conversion work will be carried out when the ship arrives here.

Bringing her from the east coast is Capt. George A. Thomson. At present, she is heading up the west coast of the continent towards Manzanillo, Mexico, Capt. Williams said.

Truman Submits 10-Point Program To Congress To Meet War Emergency

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman, in his "State of the Union" message to Congress today, submitted a 10-point legislative program in connection with the war crisis as follows:

Truman submitted a 10-point legislative program calling for:

"First, appropriations for our military build-up.

"Second, extension and revision of the Selective Service Act.

"Third, military and economic aid to help build up the strength of the free world.

"Fourth, revision and extension of the authority to expand production and to stabilize prices, wages, and rents.

"Fifth, improvement of our agricultural laws, to help obtain the kinds of farm products we need for the defence effort.

"Sixth, improvement of our labor laws to help provide stable labor-management relations and to make sure that we have steady production in this emergency.

"Seventh, housing and training of defence workers, and the full use of all our manpower resources.

"Eighth, means for increasing the supply of doctors, nurses, and other trained medical personnel critically needed for the defence effort.

"Ninth, aid to the states to meet the most urgent needs of our elementary and secondary schools.

"Tenth, a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defence effort."

APPEALS FOR UNITY

In his appeal for "unity" to a Congress, many of whose members have been sharply critical of administration foreign policy, Truman asserted:

"Make no mistake about my meaning. I do not ask, or expect, unanimity. I do not ask for an end to debate. Only by debate can we arrive at decisions which are wise, and which reflect the desires of the American people. We do not have dictatorship in this country, and we will never have it."

Truman said the 82nd Congress "faces as grave a task as any Congress in the history of our republic."

FREE PEOPLE'S TEST

Truman said its actions will measure the ability of a free people "to meet a deadly challenge to their way of life."

Truman said U.S. troops are fighting in Korea with United Nations allies because the aggression in that country "is part of the attempt of the Russian communistic leadership to take over the world, step by step."

He said the free world has resources "far greater than those of the Soviet dictatorship."

And he declared:

"Peace is precious to us. It is the way of life we strive for with all the strength and wisdom we possess. But more precious than peace are freedom and justice."

"We will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

Truman, in what might have been a reply to defence policy arguments of former Republican President Herbert Hoover and to Senator Robert Taft (R-O.) declared:

"Strategically, economically and morally, the defence of Europe is part of our own defence."

"That is why we have joined with the countries of Europe in the North Atlantic Treaty, pledging ourselves to work with them."

"There has been much discussion recently over whether the European countries are willing to defend themselves. Their actions are answering this question."

As to negotiations for peaceful settlements with Russia, Truman said:

NO APPEASEMENT

"We are willing, as we always have been to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union. But we will not engage in appeasement."

"The Soviet rulers have made it clear that we must have strength as well as right on our side. If we build our strength—and we are building it—the Soviet rulers may face the facts and lay aside their plans to take over the world."

"That is what we hope will happen, and that is what we are trying to bring about."

"That is the only realistic road to peace."

MOVED ONLY TWO FEET

Girl Asleep At Movie Object Of Big Search

SEATTLE (AP) — Little Sharon Perkins, 7, moved about two feet last night—and it took police in six prowling cars several hours to find her.

It all came about when she and brother John, 10, went to a neighborhood theatre. John became thirsty in their second sitting through a double feature and left to get a drink. When he returned, Sharon was missing from her seat.

He searched the theatre. No luck. Then he looked outside. Still no Sharon. So he told his mother, who notified the police.

Six prowling cars were sent to the area. The uniformed sleuths looked high and low. For five hours that went on without a trace of the "missing" girl. Then they decided shortly after midnight to try the now-darkened theatre again.

Sure enough, sound asleep on the floor in front of her seat was Sharon.

From now on she's going to stay home and watch television. Mamma's orders.

Police Find Plaque Lost With 'Stone'

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard announced tonight it has found what is believed to be the descriptive plaque lifted from Westminster Abbey Christmas morning along with the missing Coronation Stone.

The small oak plaque inscribed with the history of the Scottish Stone of Scone was found on a bombed site near the Abbey. Both the plaque and the priceless 458-pound stone have been the objects of a country-wide police hunt.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said the plaque was found Saturday in the debris of a bombed building in Tufton Street near the Abbey. But thorough sifting of the ruins failed to disclose the stone on which 27 British sovereigns have taken their coronation oaths.

The officials said confirmation that the plaque came from the Coronation Chair—beneath the seat of which the Stone of Scone was placed—could not be made until tomorrow, when Abbey experts will examine it.

'Wine' Drink Kills 3 Boys

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — Three Yakima Valley boys died today and five others were seriously ill as the result of drinking a sweet, pinkish liquid they thought was wine.

They drank from a gallon jug found on a Sawyer, Wash., farm three weeks ago. The ranch foreman said he thought the jug contained anti-freeze solution. A specimen was flown to Seattle tonight for analysis.

Investigating officers said the youths drank the deadly solution while riding around the lower Yakima valley Monday night in a car. Some had sampled the contents of the jug the night before, but did not have enough to make them sick.

WeatherShip Stonetown Relieves St. Catharines

The weatherShip Stonetown sailed from Esquimalt today to relieve the St-Catharines on Station Peter, 900 miles off the B.C. coast.

It is the first trip for the former navy frigate since she was converted to her new role, and since Canada took over meteorological reporting in the North Pacific at the end of November.

Stonetown is scheduled to take over from the other vessel at midnight Thursday and St-Catharines will head for her Esquimalt base immediately, arriving on Jan. 15.

PLAN RECORDINGS

The Department of Transport has arranged for the two ships to exchange message by radio phone as they approach one another.

The messages will be recorded at a receiving station at Vancouver, and it is planned to release them over a nation-wide commercial radio hook-up if they prove suitable.

Capt. J. McMunagle and Capt. J. A. Sleight of Stonetown and St-Catharines, respectively, likely will compare notes during the broadcast.

Capt. Sleight and his crew have had a rough time during their five-week stay at Station Peter. A number of Pacific gales have buffeted the St-Catharines.

Order Honors Local Firm

A Victoria organization, the Sands Mortuary Limited, was recently accepted into the fellowship of an international organization of funeral directors, known in the profession as the Order of the Golden Rule. This affiliation was made possible only by the written approval of many local persons in a position to speak with authority on the subject.

Funeral directors belonging to the Order are selected for their ability to uphold the ideals of this international organization. The Order has a membership which, literally, extends around the world, and has been in existence for over two decades.

We understand that, in the funeral directing profession, it is considered a genuine distinction to be accepted into the fellowship of the Order, since ordinarily but one funeral director in each community can belong, and the requirements are such that only those funeral directors of high ethical standing in the profession can attain this distinction.

The member of the Order in each community identifies himself by means of a Symbol, which consists of an armored knight with raised visor, who supports with his right hand a shield, bearing the motto of the Order: "Service Measured Not by GOLD but by the GOLDEN RULE."

Pensions Must Be Paid For

THE INCREASED COST OF PROVIDING old-age pensions of $40 a month for all Canadians at the age of 70 will be $218 millions a year at the start and will rise annually from then on. This is apart from the provision of pensions for those in proved need between the ages of 65 and 70, which will bring the total cost of the scheme up to something like $250 millions.

That is to say, the scheme of itself will raise the total cost—and the taxes—of the Federal Government by about 10 per cent. In addition, the provinces will have to finance, by a sales tax, half the cost of the means-test pensions under the age of 70.

Through their governments the people of Canada have said that they desire these expensive reforms and are ready to pay for them. But the manner of payment, the distribution of a large new burden, is important and so far undecided.

Most Canadians probably imagined that they would buy old-age pensions, as they buy hospital insurance in British Columbia, by direct contributions, the same for everybody. According to well-founded reports from Ottawa, however, that is not the Federal Government's intention. It proposes, apparently, to finance the new scheme by a social security tax, something like 2 per cent on all incomes, with the usual exemptions in the low brackets.

Since the Government expects the present income tax to yield $530 millions this year, the average rate would have to be increased by some 50 per cent for the single item of pensions—and this, no doubt, apart from heavy increases to pay for defence. To obtain defence and pensions at the same time the taxpayer must prepare himself for a sudden shock not long hence.

By a social security tax, based on income, rather than the same fee for everybody, the pension will not be a measure of security purchased by each individual but a project financed by the state through a redistribution of wealth. This may be a sound method but there are dangers in it.

If the individual does not pay for his complete pension, if he expects someone else, the richer neighbor next door, to pay for it, there will be a constant temptation to increase the pension beyond the means of the nation to afford it. General old-age pensions are greatly to be desired but their full cost should be clearly understood in advance and never forgotten.

We Still Require Town Planning

IF THE RESIGNATION OF CITY Council-appointed members of the Town Planning Commission results in a final and clearer recognition of Council and Commission obligations, the unfortunate break between the appointed and elected groups will have served a valuable purpose.

As the misunderstanding which led to the group resignation appears at present, the Town Planners have finally become discouraged by the treatment given their recommendations by the Council "without full consideration of our reasons." The group's reaction is easily understood. Its members are not paid for their labors. They are asked opinions on different questions and give time to the study of them. Their belief that the results of their work is summarily dismissed can scarcely increase the attractiveness of the jobs they accept voluntarily.

On the other hand, the point made by Mayor Percy George is well taken. His Worship, who is sincere in his regrets over resignation of appointees on the commission, states quite frankly: "I still feel that if a Town Planning Commission is in operation in the future, I can never imagine where the Council is bound to accept recommendations of any advisory board in toto. Council members are elected and are directly responsible to the people and by virtue of that must take the responsibility for their decisions."

Surely the two views are not irreconcilable. There has been irritation caused by unconsidered comment. There has been an inferred disregard of the work of the commission. If there had not been, there would have been no resignations.

Victoria should have an operating Town Planning Commission. The city should not be allowed to grow like Topsy, creating today conditions which will have to be corrected tomorrow. The sensible course, under the circumstances, is to re-establish a planning group without delay and to treat it in a manner which will relieve its members of the impression that its advice is worth no more than the city pays for it. The purpose of both Council and Commission is to serve Victoria—and not always with an eye immovably fixed on expediency.

We Need These Goods

THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT NEW Zealand meat will soon arrive in Canada is good news for the consumer. The Canadian meat producers, who have profited hugely from high prices during recent years, can well endure some overseas competition.

One of the main objectives of public policy in Canada is to hold down prices and one of the surest ways of doing it is to increase the supply of goods.

Every extra pound of meat, or anything else that comes into Canada increases the supplies of goods and thus reduces the pressures of inflation. Every tariff, embargo and regulation which keeps out foreign goods reduces the consumer's available supply and helps to push up prices.

The Canadian tariff which makes the consumer pay more for goods than he would pay without it is a major factor in high Canadian prices. If anyone doubts this let him look at any American newspaper and observe the price of all kinds of manufactured articles in the United States, far below the Canadian level. In virtually all cases the difference between the two price levels is the amount of the tariff or some other protective device.

At all times the restriction of trade restricts the wealth of any nation, though it may benefit certain industries and areas at the expense of others. At this time, when we are approaching shortages in various goods as the rearmament program takes more and more of them, it is economic lunacy of a peculiar virulence to discourage imports. The arrival of New Zealand meats will be a ray of sanity. And it should never be forgotten that if we wish to sell our goods to New Zealand or any other country we must buy from it.

More than prices and the convenience of consumers is involved here. The resources of the free world must be meshed if they are to resist Communism. They cannot be meshed without a vast increase in the interchange of their goods. Restrictions on this movement, except for military purposes, are more unsound today than ever.

They Don't Seem To Like It

IT IS NO SURPRISE THAT COMMUNIST publications in Europe have released a barrage of invective against Gen. Eisenhower, who arrived on the continent on Sunday to take command of Atlantic Pact defence forces. The wonder is that they waited so long to go into action. Actually the campaign of invective started just before Christmas, but has now hit its full stride with Communist newspapers in Prague and Paris echoing the earlier Moscow jibes. It is something new for Gen. Eisenhower to hear himself called "a true serf of Wall Street," and "a sergeant major" of that malignant thoroughfare. But considering the source, it is not odd to hear the Allied leader, who is devoting his life to promoting and enforcing peace, named "a mercenary of the war mongers," since it has become axiomatic that the Communist line is invariably the opposite of the truth.

That is the noticeable point in the current vociferous opposition. If Eisenhower's appointment makes the Communists that angry—indicating that it endangers their military plans for western Europe—we're more convinced than ever that it was an excellent idea.

Mixing It Up

IT'S BECOMING PRETTY CONFUSING on the bus these days. The scrambled chatter of the early morning travelers makes you think you're listening in to two radio programs—one from the north and one from the deep south. "Ice on the puddles this morning," a man in an overcoat is saying. "Hope we're not in for a freeze-up." "...up three inches, and with a bud on it, too," the fellow in the next seat is boasting. In a light sports jacket and flannels, you can believe he's been out watching his daffodil since daybreak.

"Left it in for anti-freeze," a back-seat rider tells his neighbor. "Can't take a chance with the weather this clear." But across the aisle, a dapper chap with a rosebud in his lapel is explaining the bundle in his hand: "Thought they'd look nice in the office. Quite a few Marguerites this year."

You can well understand why easterners think us a little queer. You can also see why the population has doubled since wartime visitors started taking back first-hand stories about this island enigma.

But it's no use going on in this vein. Eastern papers that reprint it won't believe it anyway. They'll only remind us of last year, when for several weeks Jack Frost moved in on us and we nearly changed our tourist folders to "A Little Bit of Old Iceland." Now we're back to normal, if a word that simple will embrace skim-ice, daffodils, Marguerites and anti-freeze all on one bus.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

WHEN General Eisenhower says that the people of Europe must equal the sacrifices of North America in the common defence he is unquestionably sound in principle but a little careless in the use of words and more careless still in the disregard of figures.

What sacrifice has North America (including Canada) made so far for defence or anything else? The supreme sacrifice has been made by many fine American boys. Some three million or more will sacrifice their immediate careers and offer their lives, if necessary, in the armed services. But so far as the civilian population is concerned there has been no sacrifice in an economic sense and that is one of the main reasons why we are in our present jam.

THE United States and Canada have given away a lot of money to foreign nations since the last war, but they still had more left over for themselves than at any time in their history. When you realize that this continent has been living in prosperity never known before to any part of mankind, when you see the shops filled with customers, the roads with cars, the houses with luxuries, the word "sacrifice" appears a little odious, not to say obscene.

There are still many poor people in America and many who were comfortable yesterday and pinched today by the inflation which has come out of the garish postwar boom. On average, however, the people of this continent are richer today than men have ever been. In Lloyd George's phrase, our hands drip with the fat of sacrifice.

It is true, as General Eisenhower says, that the Europeans must sacrifice to defend themselves but it is not they who must equal our sacrifices. If there is to be equality we must equal theirs. If these things must be measured, the question is not how much a man gives of his wealth to the community but how much he has left for himself.

Compared with us in America the British family, for example, has pitifully little left for itself. The British housewife who can buy only a shilling's worth of meat per head every week already knows a good deal about sacrifice which we have never yet suspected. Before the struggle is finished she will know still more. It will be difficult for General Eisenhower to explain to her that she must equal the sacrifices of a North America which is eating more meat and using more goods than ever.

THE American people are producing and using about $300 billions in wealth this year or roughly $2,000 for every man, woman and child. Nothing like this has ever been seen on earth before. We Canadians, the second richest people, produce about $1,200 per head. After the Americans have spent $50 billions for defence or $330 per head they have left over $1,670 per head for their own use. After we Canadians have spent $1 billion for defence, as at present planned, or $70 per head, we have left over $1,130 per head for our own use. The Americans, for all their gigantic armament, are still 50 per cent better off than we are.

THAT is not to say that Canada is doing enough about defence. We have hardly begun to defend ourselves or to pay the gigantic bill that defence will soon involve. Next to the Americans we have less right to talk of sacrifice in financial terms than anybody. However, if you apply the same sort of test to the Europeans you will soon see who is making the sacrifice, for they have left for their own use only a fraction of our income and goods.

If the strict principle of equality of sacrifice were applied the Europeans would do nothing at all for common defence. If they insisted that they must have as many goods for themselves as the Americans before they began to sacrifice, the sacrifice would never begin.

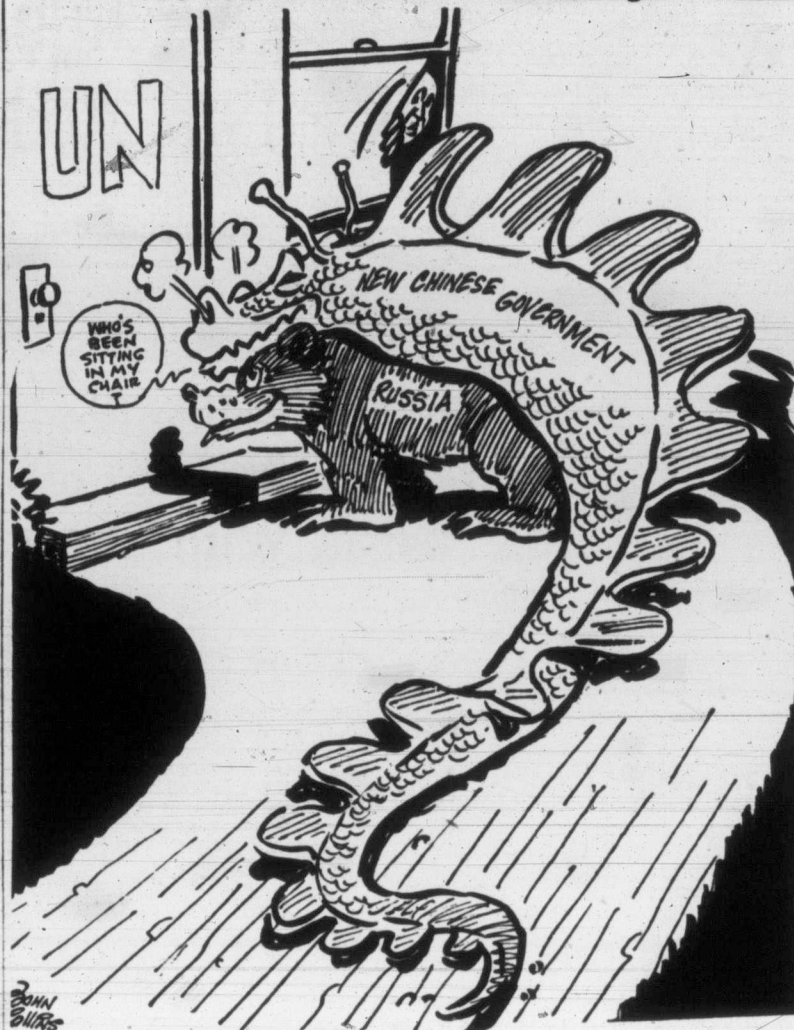

IF YOU cut the incomes of a rich man and a poor man in half you can hardly call that equality of sacrifice. The poor man may be less able to spare $1 than the rich man is able to spare $100. The only important question to both of them is what he has after he has paid his taxes. The European has relatively little now. He will have still less soon. While we in America will still be doing very well on average even if our present defence costs are doubled, as no doubt they will be.

NEVERTHELESS General Eisenhower's statement will be useful if it gets the word "sacrifice" into our North American consciousness and he of all men, one of the greatest and finest of our age, is entitled to use it. For the simple fact is that we have arrived where we are because we put our living standards ahead of our safety and our duty; we have imagined that we could fight the hungry half of the world without altering our own diet, we have supposed that the destitute peoples would join our side because we were rich, we have given away a lot of money without in fact sharing anything and we have boldly faced Armageddon waving an economist's chart and a Wall Street ticket to prove our strength.

We shall need better weapons and they can be bought only with sacrifices such as we have not yet known.

The greatest dilemma facing teachers in a democracy is to develop ability to distinguish between gullibility that makes us easy prey to propaganda, on the one hand, while avoiding cynical skepticism that makes us believe everything is false and all men are liars.—Los Angeles school superintendent Dr. A. J. Stoddard.

As Our Readers See It

CIVIC CANDIDATES

Re the recent disqualification in the civic elections:

There must be hundreds of young men with the necessary qualifications who with proper inducement could come forward in civic elections.

The provisions of the Municipal Act no doubt were instituted as a bond to protect the taxpayer and as such there can be no quarrel with said act.

As it is, the taxpayer has been put to unnecessary expense and trouble and it appears the young man would have been sworn in, but for the diligence of some person who deserves the thanks of the taxpayer rather than the abuse some are so anxious to shower on his head.

"OBSERVER."

CLEAN HOCKEY

I see by the Jan. 3rd paper that Jack Stewart, skipper and star of Chicago Black Hawks, is finished as a hockey player due to a back injury received when crashed into boards.

Boarding seems to be something rarely "called" by the P.C.H.L. refs and while there is a small percentage of the fans who like to see it rough, the overwhelming majority, I am sure, prefer clean hockey where the puck is considered more important than getting the man.

Brutal boarding, especially at high speed, is definitely wrong and is subject to penalty, although (as above stated) is rarely "called" in P.C.H.L. Yours for good clean hockey.

HOCKEY REFEREES

I have read with interest Mr. Harold Bate's letter in the Times concerning hockey referees, and I am quite certain that he is sincere in his views, but cannot help wondering how many games he has witnessed. I notice that the letter immediately below his own is headed "Things Not Seen," and it would appear from the observations of many hockey enthusiasts that the referees have not seen rule infractions which have been evident to the spectators.

I would venture to state that from a hasty but exhaustive canvass he will find at least 4,000 hockey enthusiasts who are entirely in disagreement with his statements.

As Mr. Bate apparently objects to noms de plume I am signing this with my full name and address.

DAY OF PRAYER

Quite recently a certain U.S. senator proposed a national appeal for Divine wisdom and guidance in the present world crisis. Now not a day passes but one is made aware by preacher, press and radio of whole communities given over to prayer on account of the Korean reverses and portents of the grim international picture as presented by leading news analysts. Among the most dependable of these is the Alsop brothers' column in your paper.

One or two of your correspondents have lately discussed the situation from a spiritual aspect based on Holy Writ, quoting instances of miraculous deliverance as a result of a national day of prayer. May I suggest that our elected representatives consider this sovereign remedy which has never yet failed in time of great crisis, for now is the perilous time described in Luke 21:25 as "men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth."

STONE OF SCONE

Your correspondent Mr. D. S. Morrison, in his effusiveness and haste to prove me wrong in saying that "The Stone" was called Lia Fail, may not have the majority of the readers of the Times with him. If I am wrong, then, I am in good company!

In the Encyclopaedia Britannica (eleventh edition) vol. 14, page 569, it is stated "Inisfail, a poetical name for Ireland. It is derived from Faul, or Lia-Fail, the celebrated stone, identified in Irish legend with the stone on which the patriarch Jacob slept when he dreamed of the heavenly ladder. The Lia-Fail was supposed to have been brought to Ireland by the Dedannans and set up at Tara as the 'inauguration stone' of the Irish kings," etc., etc.

I am glad that Mr. Morrison brings to our notice the fact that the Saxons crossed into Southern England and built Westminster Abbey. The ancient way of writing the name "Isaac" was Saac. And Abraham was told that "In Isaac shall thy seed be called." Gen. 21:12; Rom. 9:7; and Heb. 11:18. Saac's sons, Saksons, Saxons. Feasible?

Then again I was rather surprised (considering Mr. Morrison's apparent knowledge) that he should refer to Sir Walter Scott's lines in scathing ridicule. Here are a few lines from another Scott, viz: Archdeacon Frederick George Scott, in his poem, "The Soul of England":

"Now in this age when out of cruel oppression,
The hearts of men are yearning for release,
O Soul of England—England's great possession—
Lead thou mankind into the way of peace."

Will this, too prove to be a figment of the writer's imagination? We shall see.

Videot's Delight

Toronto Globe and Mail

THE Dominion Bureau of Statistics on December 27 revealed that some one in Alberta has purchased a television set. He, or she, paid $470 for it. Presumably it is the only set in the province. A news report from Calgary says the television owner cannot be located. It also says that the nearest television transmitters are in Seattle or Salt Lake City and reception would be limited to about 15 minutes every two or three months. We wish the statisticians had kept the matter to themselves.

Who purchased the set and why? Did he buy it thinking it was a radio with a window in the front? Has he filled the tube with water and stocked it with goldfish? Did he take seriously those recent advertisements which said his children were being cruelly deprived if the home had no TV? Had he seen television programs before and come to the conclusion that 15 minutes every two or three months was enough?

ENOUGH PROBLEMS

There are enough problems these days without such questions to keep us awake nights. Come now, Bureau, your responsibility goes further than just the lighthearted throwing out of naked statistics.

Two Theories

By WALTER LIPPMAN,
from Washington

WITH the speeches by Governor Dewey and by Mr. Hoover, the unavoidable and, indeed, most necessary re-examination of American policy has begun and it should be carried on. After a reverse of the kind we have met in Korea only a dictator might manage to avoid an inquiry and an accounting. In the United States it would be very foolish indeed to try to avoid them.

Mr. Dewey and Mr. Hoover belong, of course, to the serious opposition with which a national policy that the people will support will have to be hammered out on the anvil of debate. Their speeches show all the marks of a quick and emotional reaction to the Korean defeat.

The crucial difference between the two men begins with their radically different beliefs about the size of the American army. Mr. Dewey called for "a swift acceleration of the draft" to bring the army "to a strength of not less than 100 divisions, and our divisions are nearly twice as large as Russian divisions..." Mr. Hoover, on the other hand, says that "we have little need for large armies unless we are going to Europe or China" and—differing sharply from Mr. Dewey—Mr. Hoover does not wish to go to Europe or to China.

The difference between a big army and a small army is the essential difference between the Dewey and Hoover policies. The Dewey policy is the Truman Doctrine carried to its logical extreme. Therefore it calls for the largest possible American army as part of an immense coalition of armies from Britain, France, Germany, Spain, Turkey, Japan, fighting on a front of about 15,000 miles around the fringes of Russia and China. The Hoover policy is to skip the army and abandon the Eurasian mainland.

UNWORKABLE POLICIES

It would not be difficult to demonstrate that each policy is in its separate way quite unworkable. Thus the armed coalition that Mr. Dewey's theory calls for could not be raised, trained and equipped—even if we assume theoretically that everybody in the non-Communist world worked for it selflessly—for several years.

What possible reason is there for thinking—even theoretically—that the Russians and the Chinese with their superior armies would permit a coalition able to crush them to be formed near their frontiers?

Mr. Hoover, on the other hand, is so disgusted with land warfare that he wishes to tell Stalin to help him to the mainland of Europe, Asia and Africa. Mr. Hoover is prepared to fight only to defend the islands of the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. This withdrawal of American guarantees is a surrender greater than any Stalin and Mao have ever called for.

Though Mr. Dewey and Mr. Hoover have come to diametrically opposite conclusions, the two theories suffer from the same error. Both overlook the critical difference between defence in each area and defence by deterrent power.

Not everything can be defended by deterrent power—especially not a primitive country which is attacked by a primitive army. But Western Europe can almost certainly be defended against military conquest if it has become certain that Western Europe cannot be taken over as a going concern and that the price for trying is a powerful retaliation.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"I USED to think," said the Elevator Man, "that taxi drivers and bus drivers and such could take anything in their stride. When you rub elbows with the public like they have to do the sensitive corner of your funny-bone soon get worked down."

After a while even a woman with a yesterday's transfer and a determination to travel in the opposite direction to where the bus is headed doesn't phase them. But a couple of news items from Britain begin to cast some doubts on the hardy breed. One told how busmen's wives are up in arms about a move to put girls' conductors on the buses, as they did in wartime. The helpmeets are afraid that association with beautiful 'clippies' all day will turn their husbands' heads, and make them less eager to rush home at the end of the shift. They're going to make sure the work day becomes no busman's holiday. And the drivers don't seem to be fighting back. Going up!

"Even worse," said the Elevator Man, "is the other item. It seems that in Manchester the bus company put posters in the buses listing busmen's jobs and giving the rates of pay. Well, the men took one horrified look at them and began to tear them down. The reason was, the rates shown were a new high scale not in operation yet. 'And how,' asked the drivers and conductors, 'are we to convince our wives of that? Will they believe us when we insist we bring home all we get?' Well, the drivers drive the buses, but who drives the drivers? Low main!

"Maybe," said the Elevator Man, "the strain is proving too much and the boys are weakening. Imagine bumping into things like this all day: 'I want to be procrastinated at the next corner,' says a passenger. 'Huh?' gapes the driver. 'Procrastinated,' snaps the passenger. 'I looked it up in the dictionary and it means 'put off'.'"

THE HOME GARDEN

Takes Patience To Preserve Poinsettia

By HILDA BEASTALL
In many homes the number one problem is what to do with the gift poinsettia.

Some of these plants have become very sad and bedraggled specimens. The stems are almost devoid of leaves, the red bracts are fading and the actual flowers are about over.

Shall we save the plant or throw it away?

The answer will depend on whether you have a "green thumb," which in this case means reasonable facilities and some patience.

If these are lacking it is best to relegate the plant to the compost heap.

Those who feel the urge to preserve their gift should proceed in the following manner:

As the plant fades, lessen the frequency of watering until the soil becomes dry.

Put the stem (or stems) at a point six inches above the soil level and place the pot in an airy spot in the basement until late spring.

GUARD AGAINST FROST

Don't choose a place next to the furnace, nor yet by door or window where draught and frost may strike it.

When all danger of frost has passed, the pot is brought into stronger light and given water, which will start the dormant buds into growth.

If the plant is kept cool and gradually hardened by increased exposure to the elements, it may be planted outside for the summer.

Next fall it is dug and re-potted before the frost-date, taken inside and subjected to a reasonably even temperature with a night minimum of 60 degrees.

Then, if you are lucky, you may again have the pleasure of those insignificant greenish-yellow flowers and the showy red bracts. But this time you can proudly say that you raised it yourself.

Kenora Couple Die When Cabin Burns

KENORA, Ont. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lockart of Wabuskang Lake, Ont., died in hospital here today from burns suffered when fire Saturday destroyed their cabin, about 40 miles north of Red Lake.

Mr. Lockart is reported to have picked up a can of gasoline instead of a can of coal oil when starting a fire in a cook stove which heated their small cabin.

Abandon Search For Two Lost Fishermen

HALIFAX (CP)—A search for fisherman Arthur Reynold of Dover, N.S., and his Newfoundland mate, Henry Ingram, 19, has been abandoned. They have been missing since Wednesday when they left the schooner Nelson M. off Canso, N.S., in a dory. R.C.A.F. planes searched the area but found nothing.

Mainland Fire Drives 14 Into Streets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fire drove 14 rooming-house dwellers to the street Sunday night.

The fire, however, was brought under control 40 minutes later and damage was confined to an attic suite and the roof.

LIGHTNING IN TIME TO MAKE SERMON COUNT

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Members of the Christian Temple congregation took their pastor at his word Saturday.

Rev. W. Millard Stevens was preaching on "Overcoming Fear." A bolt of lightning struck the belfry. No one moved an inch. The service went on for 25 minutes.

After it was over somebody summoned the fire department to put out a fire in the belfry, caused by the lightning.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's first traffic fatality of 1951 was registered Saturday night with the death of David Warner Davis, 70, who was struck by an automobile.

U.N. Officially Moves Into New Home But Lake Success Still Draws Crowds

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations today moved officially into its $65,000,000 Manhattan headquarters, but the organization's crowd-drawing activities still take place at Lake Success.

Meeting-rooms for the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council and the six main committees are not yet finished. These groups will continue to function at Lake Success, on Long Island, 15 miles from the new building.

Press and document sections will also remain at the old building.

Although a majority of the U.N.'s 3,300 employees have moved to half-furnished offices in the 39-story Manhattan building, the structure still is largely unfinished. Moving costs have already passed $300,000.

Diplomats, secretariat and visitors enter over a 1,000-foot swaying wooden catwalk. Underneath is a 250-car garage being built under the 17-acre site which John D. Rockefeller Jr. purchased for $8,500,000 and deeded to the U.N. in 1946.

The United States lent the U.N. the money to meet construction costs.

The site extends from East 42nd to 48th Streets between First Avenue and the East River Drive. New York City has so far spent more than $26,000,000 to roof over the north-south arteries and make other traffic and utility improvements for the world organization.

Designed by an international group of architects headed by Wallace K. Harrison, the structure represents a radical departure from conventional construction.

Y.M.C.A. Ski Trip

With improved snow conditions reported at the Forbidden Plateau the Y.M.C.A. will conduct a ski trip to the island resort on Jan. 19, leaving the "Y" at 11 p.m. Skiing will be enjoyed Saturday and Sunday with the party arriving back in town Sunday night. Anyone wishing to make the trip is asked to contact officials at the "Y."

THE NEW VICTORIANS

By Gwen Cash

Paul Calder is 19 years old. His conversation is casual, factual, intelligent. A good-looking boy with clear dark-gray eyes, well-combed hair, an irrepressible sense of humor and pleasant manners, he told me a story that in its way is a Canadian Odessey. Today he

Gwen Cash is a doorman at one of Victoria's movie houses. He has been a logger, an oil field operator, a common laborer, a miner. He didn't finish high school. "I was one of those smart guys," he told me wryly, "who was going out to make a fortune." He regrets he left school, but feels it too late to do anything about it now.

He's been broke in more Canadian cities than most British Columbian lads of his age have ever seen. A year ago he was learning to be a soldier at Camp Borden. He was discharged because of a skin allergy from which he has suffered since birth. Woolen battle dress made it break out with virulence. He would have liked a part in this new war, he feels is coming.

He came by his love of adventure, honestly. Paul's father was a bush pilot. He was killed in a crack-up, leaving his wife with four sons to bring up. "Mum helped in the Edmonton Library, worked in the five and ten. Mum was wonderful. She taught us to take care of ourselves."

It didn't always work out. Coming west young Paul was "rolled," woke up on the train to find one of his arms as big as a ham and tattooed on it clasped hands with "Frank, Paul N.B. (New Brunswick), B.C. (British Columbia)." He can't remember who Frank was.

Liquor appears frequently in his conversation.

He made me see and feel life in the Cadomin (Alberta) coal mines, 70 miles off the Jasper Highway. "You learn a lot in the mines. It isn't necessarily book learning."

PICK AND SHOVEL WORK

He told me about great rooms hollowed out by pick and shovel work. Skilled work, the miners are proud of. "Sometimes the roofs above these chambers get dangerously thin and water gathered above crushes through and engulfs miners working below. "Five of my buddies were drowned like that soon after I left. One was an old man named Pete Moss. He'd worked in the mines all his life and had just saved up enough money to buy a small business in a nearby township."

He told me about miners "crimping" percussion caps with their teeth, "though they could have had their heads blown off." He told me miners are "cut-ups," ready for a rough and tumble any time though its strictly forbidden and highly dangerous below ground.

"You hate the mines when you're working there," he said. "At least I did. But when you think about it afterwards, you want to go back. Maybe I will."

It takes a good many years to make a really good miner, said Paul. Most of those at Cadomin are D.P.'s from the last war and don't speak English. "I tried to teach the fellow alongside me some."

LEARN A LOT IN MINES

Once he gave shelter to two guys who came looking for work in the mines and didn't find it. He himself was working overtime—a 17-hour shift—and came home to tumble into bed. He woke 12 hours later to find his room stripped, his good suit, his winter work clothes, even his duffel bag gone. "They wouldn't get a dollar for that duffel bag."

Paul takes such setbacks with a smile. "You learn a lot in the mines. It isn't necessarily book learning."

Blast Of Jet Plane Causes Alarm In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A tremendous pressure blast that rocked the Los Angeles area Saturday was caused by a jet plane pulling out of a supersonic dive, military intelligence officials explained.

The explanation came after the mysterious "explosion" brought hundreds of calls to police and newspaper switchboards.

No serious damage was reported anywhere, but a few windows were broken in Culver City. The shock was felt all the way from Santa Monica to the San Fernando Valley, 20 miles inland.

"Two or three high-powered jet planes were being tested," a military intelligence spokesman said. "They were at altitudes of nearly 40,000 feet."

One of the new ships went into a 600 to 900-mile-an-hour power dive, he added, and roared through the sonic barrier. When it levelled off it created a vacuum and caused a terrific blast, like a thunderclap.

The explanation for the blast appears to be that the noise and shock phenomena occur only when a plane is diving towards the earth at the speed of sound or faster. The shock apparently continues straight on to the ground when the pilot pulls out of the dive and begins to regain altitude.

Ship Bound For Korea Popular

HALIFAX (CP)—The destroyer Huron suddenly became the most popular navy ship in harbor here when it was announced Saturday she will sail to Korean waters.

Navy officers said that several hours after the announcement they had received 50 applications from the carrier Magnificent, the destroyer Micnav and other vessels for transfer to Huron.

This, they said, "is indicative of a high state of morale in the fleet." Huron will sail Jan. 22 to replace the destroyer Cayuga in Korean waters. The navy didn't say whether any of the applications will be accepted.

Southward Advance Of Chinese Reds Follows Timetable Of War's Opening

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO (AP)—The Chinese Communists are rolling southward in Korea on a deadly timetable almost identical with the North Korean Red advance in June and July.

They are following many of the same routes and much of the same strategy.

The enormous differences are the vastly-increased manpower on both sides and the greater sweep of destruction across the tragic countryside.

There is also deeper despair today than six months ago in the south, because neither fighting men nor refugees have the hope they once had.

This is the seventh day of the fresh Red thrust across the 38th parallel. The penetration is virtually the same but the outlook is considerably different.

On both smashes the Reds took Seoul in four days. The North Koreans captured Wonju, 45 miles southeastward, on the seventh day; today they were on the edge of the doomed town.

Suwon, Gen. MacArthur's first field headquarters, fell to the Reds today—two days ahead of the schedule last June.

There the parallel begins to fade as this time there will be no desperate, heroic holding actions like the famed battles at the Kum River or the sad fight for Taejon.

London Papers Seeking Definite Korea Plans

Speed, Power Of Communist Attack May Supply Answer; Full Withdrawal Queried

By LEIF ERICKSON

TOKYO (AP)—In demanding a "firm declaration" of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's plans for United Nations forces in Korea, critical London newspapers are seeking an answer that evidently has not yet been decided.

Australia Out For Settlers From Old Land

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON (CP)—Australia, Canada's chief competitor for more population, is planning a vigorous drive in 1951 for new settlers.

The target set by her immigration directors for the next 12 months is 200,000. This represents an increase of about 10,000 over the record number admitted last year, but more will be accepted if the right type is available.

Since the war, Australia has attracted nearly 500,000 newcomers, outstripping by far any other member of the British Commonwealth. Of this intake about 225,000 have been recruited in the British Isles. But almost every country in Europe has contributed its quota to the steady trek which shows one in every 17 a postwar arrival.

In their 1951 campaign, immigration authorities from "down under" expect to entice more than 80,000 settlers from the United Kingdom alone. Of this number nearly 50,000 will be offered the trip through an assisted-passage plan, permitting prospective immigrants to travel by air at reduced fares if they choose.

To meet this counter-drive, Australian representatives have been concentrating in continental countries. A large number is expected to be accepted from West Germany, where the excess population is estimated at more than 7,000,000.

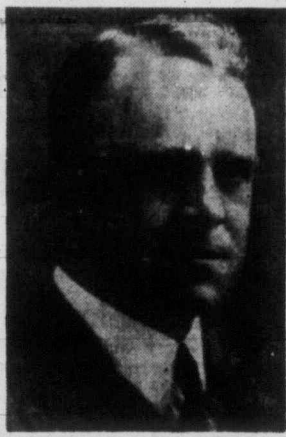

The speed and power of the current Chinese Communist offensive is likely to provide the final answer.

Many qualified observers here agree that eventual Allied withdrawal from Korea is inevitable. Neither MacArthur, the U.N. commander, nor the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington have given any public indication of this.

The evidence, however, appears plain that it boils down to a decision on how long a stand around the southeast port of Pusan will be worthwhile.

Most observers here agree that the general strategic objective must be to preserve as intact as possible the greatly outnumbered 8th Army while destroying as much Chinese strength as possible.

MacArthur's intelligence now estimates 1,350,000 Chinese Communists and 167,000 Korean Communists are mobilized in Korea. This massive Communist force of 1,500,000—with untold reserves available across the nearby Manchurian border—outnumbers the U.N. force of about 250,000 by six to one.

FIGHT POLIO

Funds Asked For War On Dread Crippler

Fight polio: The forceful slogan of the Canadian Foundation for Polio is echoing through Victoria today, as the Foundation issues its appeal to citizens in all walks of life to support its annual national campaign for funds.

The Foundation needs funds to provide medical treatment for victims of the dread crippler poliomyelitis—little children and adults—who are in need of assistance in order to regain useful and happy lives.

Letters will be sent to Victorians this week requesting contributions towards the Foundation Fund. Subscriptions may be sent to 207 Rogers Building, Vancouver.

Contributions will be used for the purchase of hospital equipment and maintenance of the polio centre in Vancouver where many polio cases have been cured or successfully rehabilitated.

Campaign officials said no contribution is too small, nor one too great, if it will save one life, help one polio victim back to a useful, happy life as a productive Canadian citizen.

In support of the campaign, Mayor Percy George is expected to issue a proclamation calling on all residents of Greater Victoria to contribute towards the fund.

VIEWS OF SPORT

By RED SMITH

NEW YORK—Some hours after 1951 happened, this bureau put its several heads together and made them do sums by way of penance. The result was the following comparison of the feats of equitation accomplished by Willie Shoemaker, Joe Culmone and Walter Miller, who now share the American record for riding winners of horse races, each having captured 388 heats in a single year.

Smith

Culmone, taking 1,674 mounts in 1950, was defeated more often than Shoemaker, who rode 1,634 races, and Shoemaker was busier than Miller, who had only 1,384 mounts when he set the American record in 1906.

Culmone won 23 per cent of his races, was first or second in 40 per cent, and finished in the money in 52 per cent. Shoemaker won with 24 per cent of his mounts, got 40 per cent of them home in first or second place, and finished one-two-three with 54 per cent. Miller's winning percentage was 28, he won or placed in 50 per cent of his races, and won, placed or showed 68 per cent of the time. He was out of the money with only 497 of his 1,384 mounts. His batting average remains far away the best ever scored in American horse yards in the 36 years that records have been kept.

Miller Deserves The Honor

A winning percentage of .28 has been achieved only three times twice by Miller, who made the same mark in 1907 when he won with 334 of his 1,194 mounts, and once by T. Burns, who won 277 of his 973 races in 1898.

On the last day of the year, Culmone rode eight races at Havana's Oriental Park and scored with three short-price horses, one of his victories being half a dead heat. Shoemaker rode 11 races at Agua Caliente in Mexico and got three favorites across. Now, when a boy is winning, his agent has a wide choice of mounts because all owners like to have a little something extra going for them and wish to capitalize on the kid's winning streak. Thus a hot boy gets hot horses, which keep him winning.

Obviously, Culmone and Shoemaker were trying in every race, riding as often and as well as they knew how in their tearing rush to take honors for the year and break Miller's all-time record. At Oriental Park and Caliente they were in with minor league competition for the most part, having no Eddie Arcaro or Ted Atkinson to worry them.

Yet with everything in their favor, a flat play of $2 on each of Culmone's mounts would have produced a net loss of $7.40 on the last day; the same investment on each of Shoemaker's races would have cost $10 net.

So much for hindsight. As to the shape of things to come in this already used and shabby year, let's speculate!

Things To Come

Having padded their pitching staff and strengthened their bench by the addition of Lou Boudreau, the Boston Red Sox again will be chosen by many handicappers in the American League baseball race. The Boston Red Sox again will finish somewhere behind the New York Yankees.

In spite of pressure from the bright young Phillies, whose loss of Curt Simmons will be considerably eased by the fine pitching of Ken Johnson, the Brooklyn Dodgers will get hunk with destiny and win in the National League. The Giants need for a fourth starting pitcher to complement Jansen, Hearn and Maglie will become increasingly evident as the season goes on, although New York will make a strong showing.

As For Fighters . . .

Somebody will punch Joe Louis into permanent retirement and Ezzard Charles will consolidate his position as the unchallenged boss of the heavyweights. With or without the acquiescence of Jake LaMotta, Sugar Robinson will clean up the middleweight division and make menacing faces at the light-heavyweight class.

Ike Williams, the fading lightweight champion, may quit. Sandy Saddler will have it easy among the featherweights.

Big stretch will win the Kentucky Derby. Notre Dame will again lose at least two football games. Ben Hogan will win no major golf championship and young players will come to the front among both the amateurs and the professionals. If there is international tennis competition Australia will turn back America's challenge for the Davis Cup.

FRED JOHNNY STARS

Sons, Esquimalt Take V. & D. Soccer Tilts

Superior scoring punch was the deciding factor in the two Victoria and District Soccer League games played yesterday. Fred Johnny, of Duncan's famous soccer family, gave Native Sons a 2 to 0 victory over Britannia Legion at Heywood Avenue, while Esquimalt sharpshooters were blanking Alcos 3 to 0 at lower Beacon Hill.

The Britannia-Duncan game was all even at the first period, with no scoring the first half. Duncan had two narrow escapes as the Legion men pressed, but were able to clear the ball without danger.

In the second half the uplanders fed their forward line consistently, with Fred Johnny netting the ball twice without a reply from Britannia.

PENALTY COUNTS

The first score in the Alcos-Esquimalt game came when Gordie Duncan took a penalty kick. Charlie Saddler blocked Duncan's drive but couldn't hold the ball and Esquimalt scored on the rebound.

Just before the half Roy Speller netted a picture goal when he took his time going in and tricked the Alcos goalie, giving him no chance on the shot.

Alcos came back strong in the second half, keeping the play in Esquimalt territory. Chance after chance was missed, however, when Alcos appeared to be lost in front of the Esquimalt goal.

With five minutes left to play Esquimalt again demonstrated their superior attacking ability when Nip Sage booted a third goal home after a beautiful combination play.

In Saturday's game, Victoria West blanked Heaney's 2 to 0 for their third victory of the second half. It was Heaney's second defeat.

Rival goalkeepers, Bill Henderson of the Cartagena and Norm Richards of Wests, sparkled in an otherwise dull contest.

Chick Newman and Jim Burdge scored for the winners, Burdge getting an assist on Newman's marker.

Post-Season Puck Series

Possibility of a post-season playoff series between the Pacific Coast Hockey League and the United States league is in the offing.

This was revealed in Vancouver Saturday when president Al Leader of the P.C.H.L. announced he had forwarded such a proposal to U.S.H.L. officials.

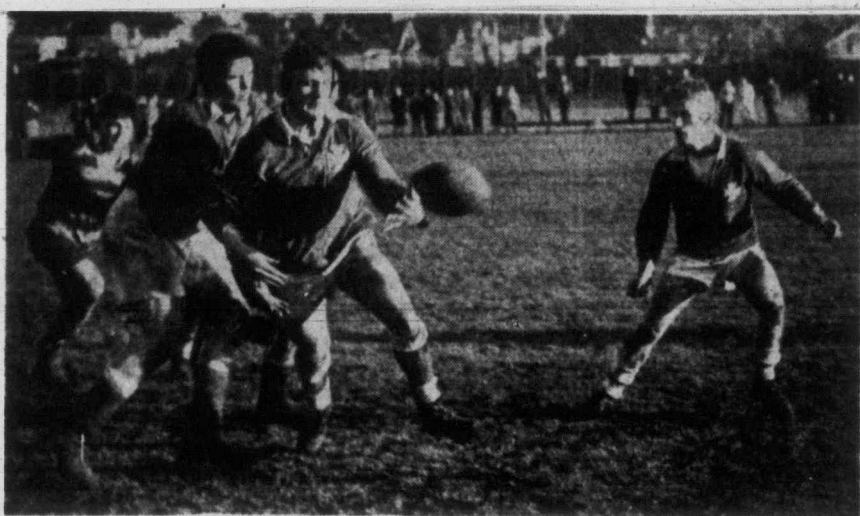

Under the plan the series would be played between the championship clubs of each league at the home arena of the P.C.H.L. titleholder.

Gaunt's Confidence Vindicated

Charlie Brumwell, left, and Ian Turner collide as they come in fast to intercept a Varsity pass in the Crimson Tide-Thunderbird rugby game Saturday. Seconds later Turner had whipped the ball to scrum half Geoff d'Easum, right, and the Tide three-quarter line was breaking fast for a big gain. Tide won the tilt, 6 to 3, and are now even with the other three clubs in the McKechnie Cup series.

Tide Ready For Norwests After Victory Saturday

A good crowd was given a first taste of victory in the McKechnie Cup rugby series Saturday when Victoria Crimson Tide whipped the Varsity Thunderbirds, defending champions, 6 to 3.

Against a team that was its equal in nearly all departments, and superior in some, Tide showed elements of smart rugby strategy and the triumph was well deserved.

Strongest on defence—Victoria only got away two three-quarter line drive all afternoon—the U.B.C. team were weak in the U.B.C. team were weak in the ball regularly as his mates poured on the weight. Had Varsity not marked the Tide men so infallibly, Tide newcomer Ray Colton might have run the score much higher. The University School boy, and scrum half Geoff d'Easum, were towers of strength despite the powerful Vancouver blocking.

As it was, Tide captain Derek Hyde-Lay was left to earn the edge for Victoria with his educated boot. Both in the play and in kicking the penalty shots which won the game, Hyde-Lay had a great afternoon.

TIDE START WELL

The Victoria team showed unity of purpose and smart field strategy from the first whistle. The ball was kept in Vancouver territory for fully two-thirds of the first half. Only excellent clearing by Austin "Humphrey" Taylor, Varsity fullback, saved the 'Birds on three separate occasions. Jim Mill and Lorne Prevost, who were at break forward and stand-off, worried Varsity continually.

Art Bridge, Tide fullback, played a great game and filled a hole that had been evident in the first Tide appearance.

When the teams reached the rest period without a score the stands looked for drama in the second half, and were not disappointed.

TWO PENALTIES

A penalty goal in the first five minutes gave Tide a 3 to 0 lead and galvanized the Victoria men into rushes that twice took them within a yard of the Varsity goal line. Each time a valiantly.

New Leaders Seen In B.C. Puck Leagues

Out with those pencils, hockey statisticians!

There are new leaders today in both British Columbia's senior amateur hockey leagues, the Mainline-Okanagan and Western International.

Back of it all is Spokane Flyers' 3 to 0 victory Sunday night over Nanaimo Clippers in a Mainline-Okanagan League game at Spokane.

With the aid of the win, Spokane's second in two nights over Nanaimo, the Flyers moved into top spot in the W.I.H.L., while Kamloops Elks replaced Clippers at the Mainline-Okanagan helm.

Elks got a start on the upward climb Saturday night on home ice, trimming Vernon Canadians 4 to 3.

The same night, Kelowna Packers thumped Kerrisdale Monarchs 10 to 4 for the Kerries' third consecutive road defeat.

There was one W.I.H.L. game Saturday night. Nelson Maple Leafs edged Trail Smoke Eaters 6 to 5.

fighting U.B.C. squad managed to clear and run the ball back. Real tension developed when Austin Taylor tied the count with a superb penalty kick from the 40-yard mark to tie the score at 3 to 3. Now Varsity roared back, trying for the down which would decide the issue. Over-anxious, they brought penalties down on their heads and watched their opportunity slip as Hyde-Lay scored on a 25-yard kick from a very difficult angle after missing an easy one minutes earlier.

The game ended seconds after Tide cleared the ball from their two-yard line where Varsity had carried it in a succession of brilliant and determined rushes. The win for Victoria ties up the series, with each team having a win and a loss. Next Saturday Tide will be host to North Shore Norwests, who have won from Vancouver Lions and lost to Varsity, a reversal of the Victoria score to date.

Line-ups follow:

Varsity—Austin Taylor; John Newton, Stan Clark, Gerry Main, George Pull, Jack Smith, John Tennant, Bill Blake, Day Shaw, Ralph Martinson, Bob Dunlop, Fred Black, Al Pearson, Chuck Flavell, Doug McMillan, Spares: John Olson, Dick Burton, Hugh Greenwood.

Curlers Reach Eights In Nipawin 'Spiel

NIPAWIN, Sask. (CP)—The clash between two highly-regarded Winnipeg rinks highlights play today as the fifth annual Nipawin automobile bospital swings into its third day.

Heavy favorites, the Billy McTavish quartette meets Leo Johnson, a former car winner. The victorious rink will move into the fourth of No. 1 event and gain a berth in group knockout play leading to the final for the cars.

Playoff arrangements differ this year from the four previous 'spels. The round-robin series and consolation event have been eliminated. Instead, rinks reaching the fourth of any of the four events will be divided into two groups of eight. Each group will play a straight knockout, with the group winners meeting in a best-of-three final for the four cars—major prize in the rich bospital.

The runners-up will receive diamond rings. All other prizes are cases of silverware.

The rinks rested yesterday. Other skips to reach the eights of No. 1 event Saturday along with McTavish and Johnson were: Howard Wood and Grant Watson, both of Winnipeg and both car winners in the past; E. B. Olson of Edmonton; W. Schmitt of Arborfield, Sask.; L. Borreson of Antler, Sask.; and G. Stewart of Spy Hill, Sask.

Robinson Faces Suspension For Canceling Bout

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A member of the Miami Boxing Commission today threatened welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson with suspension for cancelling his Jan. 22 title bout here against Bobby Dykes.

Such a suspension probably would wipe out Robinson's scheduled shot at the middleweight crown against champion Jake Lamotta at Chicago, Feb. 14, under an agreement with the National Boxing Association. Sugar Ray's withdrawal from the battle against Dykes of San Antonio, Tex., was announced in New York yesterday by Robinson's manager, George Gainford, and Miami promoter W. H. Peoples. Gainford said Robinson would not be able to pare down to the 147-pound welter limit in time for the fight.

Informed of the action, member Jack Rice of the Miami commission said, "At our last commission meeting, we decided that Robinson would either defend against Dykes or be suspended. I can't speak for the others now, but I will vote for Robinson's suspension if he refuses to keep his contract."

Konstanty Returns Phillies' Contract

WORCESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Jim Konstanty, voted the most valuable player in the National League last season, said Sunday he had returned his 1951 contract to Philadelphia Phillies—unsigned.

The Phillies' ace relief pitcher said the contract provided a salary increase. But he added, it was "not what I expected."

The 33-year-old right-hander would not disclose the increase offered or the amount of the contract.

Cotnoir Sets P.C.L. Goakeeping Mark

Blanks Seattle For Second Straight Shutout

Goalie Jerry Cotnoir of the Victoria Cougars holds a new Pacific Coast Hockey League record today following the Cougars' 3 to 0 triumph over Seattle Ironmen at Seattle last night.

In scoring his second consecutive shutout—he blanked Tacoma here 6 to 0 Friday night—Cotnoir has now gone 163 minutes and 50 seconds without being scored upon. The old mark of 159.30 was held by Tom Karakas of the Portland Eagles.

Ollie Dorohoy of the New Westminster Royals was the last man to dent Cotnoir's armor, scoring at 16.10 of the first period of the New Year's Day game here. In fact, Cotnoir has only been scored upon once this year.

FOUR-POINT EDGE

Victory was also the Cougars' third in a row and besides giving them a four-point bulge over the fourth-place Portland Eagles, leaves the locals but two points behind the second-place Tacoma Rockets.

It was also Cotnoir's second successive blanking of his former mates. He turned the trick here previously on Dec. 29. In addition, it was Victoria's first win on Seattle ice in two years.

SENSATIONAL STAND

Cougars were full value for their win as they outskated the Ironmen most of the evening and backchecked well. Only in the second period did Seattle have an edge on play but Cotnoir, sensational here he had to be, turned aside 13 shots to four for Red McAttee in the middle session to hold the Ironmen at bay.

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game, which saw Eddie Mazur pick up points on all three Cougar goals. Mazur got an assist on Jack McIntyre's first period goal, scored the second himself and also assisted on Stan Long's final tally, both the latter tallies coming in the second period.

For McIntyre it was his fourth goal in two games. He now leads the Cougars in the matter of winning goals.

At Portland the slumping Eagles dropped their seventh game in eight starts, losing to Vancouver Canucks, 5 to 4. Leading 2 to 1 at the end of the second period, the Canucks exploded for three quick markers at the start of the third period and though Portland made a determined bid, their late rally fell short.

SALIVA TEST MAY BE ASKED OF RANGERS

Mystic Potion Does Something As Blues Climb From N.H.L. Cellar To Third Place

Here's a tip for New York Rangers, currently the hottest team in the National Hockey League: Lay off that stuff about mysterious elixirs and secret potions. The other teams in the loop may soon be demanding a saliva test.

The Rangers, who failed to react with any success to hypnosis as a cure for their losing ills earlier this season, have elicited with the pep-producing potion being fed to the players before recent games.

The New Yorkers blasted Toronto Maple Leafs 4 to 2 in Toronto Saturday night, then came back Sunday to edge Chicago Black Hawks 3 to 2. Result is they now are in third place—a strange contrast to the cellar position they have held much of the season.

Other weekend games saw Montreal Canadiens dump the league-leading Detroit Red Wings 5 to 2 Saturday night and Detroit come back Sunday to blank Boston Bruins 3 to 0.

To a lot of hockey fans the secret potion still looks like a gag designed to get publicity in New York newspapers which normally give little space to hockey. But some folks are beginning to wonder, particularly those who saw the Rangers get three quick first-period goals in Maple Leaf Gardens immediately after downing the fluid from the black flag.

ILLEGAL

It may all be psychological in its effect, but if Rangers keep up their spirited performance some of the fans may begin to wonder if the contents of the elixir shouldn't be investigated. After all, it's illegal with the horses; why not hockey players?

The elixir-fortified Rangers took a little longer to get started on their home ice Sunday, but it was the same story after that.

Boston Bruins found goalie Terry Sawchuk and the Detroit ice jinx too much for them in the other Sunday night game. The 3 to 0 victory was Sawchuk's sixth shutout.

Aussies Hold 72-Run Lead In Test Match

Miller's 96 Top Score Of Series

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter)—Australia today gained a first-innings lead of 72 runs, with four wickets in hand, over England in the third of five cricket Test matches.

Australia won the first two tests.

England's bowling staff had toiled effectively until tea today, then Australia's seven-wicket partnership flogged the tiring attack to raise the score to 362 for 6 when stumps were drawn.

Keith Miller, who batted for all but 20 minutes of the day, and Ian Johnson came together after tea with the total of 252 for 6 and though England's three-man attack of Freddie Brown, Alec Bedser and John Warr was augmented by sore-kneed Denis Compton for the last half hour, the batsmen put on 110 runs without being separated.

Miller was 96 not out when stumps were drawn, thus becoming top scorer of the current series of tests, beating Brown's 79.

Scorecard follows:

ENGLAND	AUSTRALIA
First Innings: 290 (Brown 79, Hutton 62, Miller 4 for 37).	First Innings (overnight 110-1).
	K. Archer, 6; Evans, 8; Bedser, 48.
	A. Morris, 6; Bedser, 6.
	A. L. Hasslett, C. Bedser, B. Brown, 79.
	N. Harvey, 8; Bedser, 4.
	K. Miller, not out, 96.
	S. Loxton, C. Bedser, B. Brown, 17.
	D. Talon, 10; B. Bedser, 18.
	Ian Johnson, not out, 64.
	Extras: 19.
	Total (six wickets): 362.
	England: 1st day: Bedser, 4 for 96; Warr, 6 for 110; Brown, 3 for 133; Compton, 4 for 14.

Totems Prove Worthy Foes For Tillicums

Coach Gar Taylor finally found some suitable opposition for his Intermediate B Tillicum hoopers.

Anxious to get his club some "real competition" he engineered a game with the speedy Victoria High School Totems.

The result was probably more pleasing for the fans at the Badminton Hall Saturday night than for Gar—as his clubmen dropped a thrilling 41 to 39 decision to the students.

It was a good game to watch throughout—the up-and-coming hoopers showed plenty of fight and drive, especially when Tillicums flashed a late rally which just fell short.

Norm Forbes' one-handed basket from the side proved the winner, and offset a last-minute score by Tillicum's Ted Saunders.

Totems led 24 to 18 at the half, but faded after losing captain George Woollett and Jack Shields on personals in the second stanza. Pete Zarry of high school, led scorers with 18 points.

Line-ups follow:

Totems—Woollett 10, Shields 2, Zarry 18, Pynn, Jahraus 6, Clarke, Forbes 4, Oakley 1, Donahue, Burton, Whan, Abbott. Totals—41.

Tillicums—Anderson 10, Davies 7, Windle 4, Vetch 7, Hampton 1, Jackson 4, Saunders 8, Stewart. Total—39.

Hole-In-One

Art Dowell scored the second golf ace of 1951 when he holed his 120-yard drive off the tee on the 8th at the Victoria Golf Club. Art was playing with W. L. Woodhouse, R. J. Burland and Bud Hocking.

Fans To Pick Favorites At Ice Games Tonight

A good deal of head-scratching will be in evidence at the Commercial Hockey League games at the Memorial Arena tonight.

Fans are to be asked to choose two squads, each complete with coach and manager, from over 100 names comprising the players and handlers of the league's six teams. From these ballots will emerge the Commercial All-Star team which will play Vancouver Commercial League All Stars on Jan. 20 for the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association.

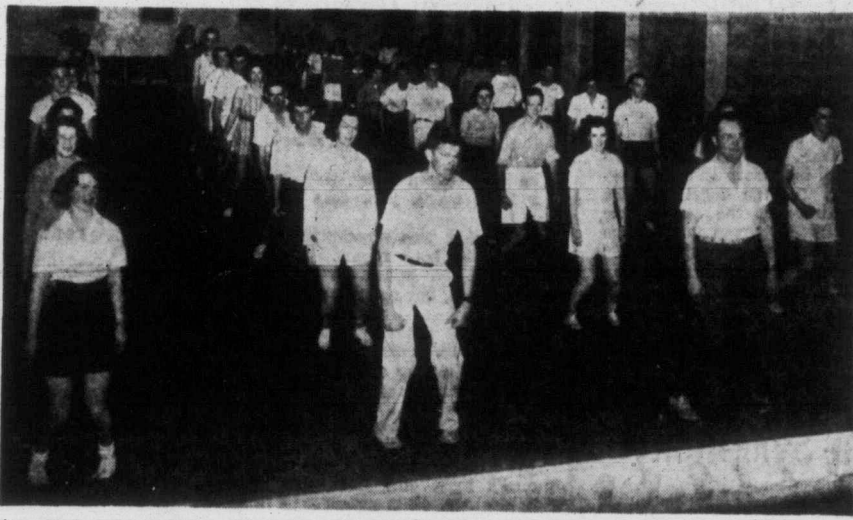

John Priestley reports a steady call for tickets as fans seek to reserve their seats. Exchange tickets have been made available at 1613 Douglas and 1110 Government. They must be taken or mailed to the arena box office for actual seat reservations.

The box office will be open for ticket sales Monday evening, Jan. 15, from 7 to 11; all day Wednesday, Jan. 17, from 9 to 5; and Saturday evening, Jan. 20, from 7.

Season ticket holders for regular Commercial League games can get their usual seats if tickets are picked up before 5 Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 17.

This group of 60 pigeon-toed and knock-kneed people, believe it or not, are skiing. Hands clenched about their ski poles, knees bent against the tug of the wind, and skis toed inward to slow their precipitate flight, they are soaring down Mount Brenton's slopes—in their imagination.

They enjoyed every minute of it too, as Pro Rec instructor Al Angus put them through their paces at the first session of the dry ski school, held at Crystal Garden lower ballroom last week. Another indoor workout will be held this Wednesday at 7.30.

Ransom Leads Middlecoff In L.A. Open Golf

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Flying Henry Ransom clung to his narrowing lead and Sam Snead, playing with a broken bone in his left hand, stayed in the running at the end of the third round of the $15,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament Sunday.

Ransom, 39-year-old veteran of the professional golf campaigns, shot a one-over-par 72 for a total score of 208.

Three strokes back of Ransom—with the final 18 holes to be played tomorrow at the Riviera Country Club's par 35-36-71 test of golf—came Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Doug Ford of Briarcliff, N.Y.

Middlecoff boomed in with a sparkling 68, to go with previous rounds of 73-70, and Ford posted a 70 to accompany a 69 and 72, both contestants heading into the big finale tomorrow with totals of 211.

A score of 76-75-78—229 was carded by youthful Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, B.C.

Civil Servants Add To Automotive Lead

Civil Service increased their leadership in the Automotive Hockey League last week and at the same time shoved Yarrows deeper into the cellar by edging the shipyard crew, 2 to 1.

Mooneys and B.C. Electric battled to a 2 to 2 draw in the other league fixture.

Standings follow:

Civil Service	W. L. T. Pts.
Mooneys	6 4 1 13
B.C. Electric	5 5 1 11
Yarrows	0 10 0 0

United At Peak Form As Playoffs Beckon

Victoria United are but one step away from the Coast Soccer League finals, and judging from their showing here Saturday when they blanked Vancouver City, 4 to 0, United could take that big hurdle in stride this week when they meet North Shore on the mainland.

The league semifinal between United and the league champions will be played on the mainland Saturday and will be a sudden-death affair. The second half of the semis between City and St. Andrews will take place the following Saturday.

If United reaches the final the no effect on the standings, it proved one thing—that United must be rated a definite threat for the championship.

MILLIGAN SPARKLES

Wallace Milligan sparked the attack that saw United take a one-goal margin in the first half and then literally run City into the ground during the final 45 minutes.

Milligan notched the first goal after United had come close on several tries as he pushed a rebound home after Ab Travis had hit an upright.

Early in the second half Jack Robbins made it 2 to 0 on a penalty kick (he has yet to miss) when Steve Dorazio was detected handling in the defensive zone. Milligan increased the margin a short while later when he ripped a cross from Cedric Robb through goalie Ian McPherson's hands.

The classy centre-forward then set up the final goal for Robb who let a soft shot go that McPherson let dribble into the net.

Territorially, United held a wide edge. City on the other hand did not appear up to their usual standards.

Newcomers appearing in United line-up were Bobby Allen of Victoria Wests and Don McGee, twin brother of inside right Denny McGee.

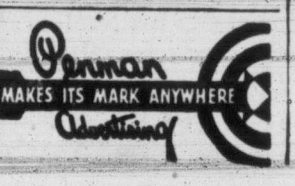

Line-ups follow:
Victoria United—Joe Travis; Bruce Pickburn; McMillan, Sid Robbins; Jack Robbins; Robb, Denny McGee, Milligan, Allen, Ab Travis; Spares: Joe Robbins, Walker, Don McGee.
Vancouver City—McPherson; Gustaf, Sawyer; Stanley, Jordan, Dewhirst, Lewis, Carr, Brian Pridley, Ashdown, Thomas; Spares: Dorazio.

GOLF BUTTONS CHALLENGERS TURNED BACK

Bob Fleming and John Merriman were turned back by Dick and Laurie Carroll in their bids for the senior golf buttons at Gorge Vale yesterday.

The challengers and defenders were all square at the turn, with the Carroll brothers winning the 10th with a birdie and losing the 11th to par. On the 12th hole Laurie Carroll played the feature shot of the match when he holed out with a No. 6 iron for a birdie three. From there in each hole was halved.

Winners had a best ball of 71, losers 72.

Minor Hockey Pacesetters Lose Ground

Leading teams of the midge and bantam sections of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association suffered reverses in Saturday morning's play at the Memorial Arena.

The top-placed Cubs of the midge division went down to a 5 to 1 defeat at the hands of Maroons while Royals, the bantam pacesetters, were nipped 5 to 4 by the cellar Royals.

In other games in the midge section Royals and Capitals played to a 2 to 2 draw, and Bruins trimmed Senators, 4 to 2. Bruins nipped Cubs, 2 to 1, in the other bantam encounter.

'We'll Be Back', Says Porky, As 'Viduals Win

Never one to take a defeat bitterly—especially one by a single basket—flashing George "Porky" Andrews went international Saturday night after his Alberni Athletics had dropped a thrilling 63 to 61 hoop decision to Victoria's starry Individual Cleaners.

"Like McArthur—we'll be back," the upislanders' playing-coach exclaimed from the showers. And though he had a half-grin on his face at the time, the 'Viduals would do well to remember it and keep on practicing just as hard and often as they have been.

For playoff time isn't too far off, and though the cleaners are ahead in the alleged inter-city standings, two games to one, teams are all even—Stephen in total points, 148 apiece in three games.

With a scampering Bob Boyes faking right, darting left and letting go one-handers from the key-hole with amazing accuracy for a total of 20 points, Art Chapman's Individuals looked like they were finally going to establish themselves as favorites for the island title.

The locals held a lead of about six points throughout most of the game, but a strong closing drive by Alberni changed more than a few minds on that score. With two minutes left, Victoria had a 63 to 53 lead, but they were short first-stringers Elmer Curtis and Vince Clarkson, off on five fouls.

Baskets by Jack Forrest, Wes Maulstaid and Harry Kermode had the near-capacity house sitting on the edges of the seats at the Badminton Hall, but the rally was too late—and Andrews' shot which swished through the hoop as the final horn sounded was almost anticlimactic.

Before the game, island president Wilf Cain talked things over with referees Wally Stipe (out for the first time in a year) and Bob Webster. Apparently the three thought it about time the calls should be closer—a la playoffs.

The result was the highest scoring game of the season, though at first it sounds like it would be contrary-wise.

SATISFIED WITH REFS

Coaches Andrews and Chapman were more than satisfied with the officiating.

If scoring only 15 points can be called bad. His shots jiggled out of the hoop time after time, and no one was surprised when Coach Chapman pulled him a few times and gave rookie Elmer Matthews a spell in the bucket.

Ex-U. B.C. star Harry Kermode paced Alberni's attack with 17 points, many on rebound tips-ins.

Teams and scores follow:
Alberni—Andrews 10, Bykes 6, Buchanan, Kermode 17, Forrest 11, Maulstaid 3, Coulthard 3, Lynn 4, Boyd 4. Total—61.
Individuals—Clark 15, Clarkson 3, Curtis 7, Wright 10, Boyes 20, Hendry 1, Tooby 4, Matthews 3, Carter. Total—61.

Vets Upset By Mac's Champs

Mac's Champs pulled a major upset in the third division of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association Saturday by blanking Army, Navy and Air Force Vets, 3 to 0.

The defeat was the first suffered by the Vets in league play and only their second loss of the season.

Ken Peterson scored two of the winners' goals, Harry Nicholson accounted for the other marker.

Oscar Winner Brod Crawford Is Beefing About His Billing

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Exclusively yours: Brod Crawford, fuming at Columbia over the top billing given to Judy Holliday in "Born Yesterday," has been ordered by his agent to stay away from the studio until the beef is settled. . . . Property settlement tangles and a new Broadway play, "The Moon Is Blue," are holding up the Barbara Bel Geddes-Carl Schaeffer divorce.

Robert Cummings is the latest show-bus-go-on hero. He was notified of his mother's death on the eve of the last day of filming of a movie in Florida. He completed his scenes—all comedy—and then announced the news to the company.

Evelyn Keyes' independent film, "The Four-Poster," will have only three sets—all bedrooms. Hmmm! Hollywood is howling at Janet Leigh's visit to the home of Tony Curtis, where she had dinner with his "You Can't Take It With You" family. Arriving at the same time were the entire and a relative bursting through a door with a request for Janet's autograph.

Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan arrive in March or April of 1951 and Rita's studio, Columbia, is now admitting the fact. Inside word is that Rita has already decided on the script of her next picture—in the "Gilda" vein.

Las Vegas gamblers are gnashing their teeth over "The Groom Wore Spurs." Jack Carson, as a movie star, tours the leading Vegas glitter palaces and loses $60,000. . . . RKO and Silvana Mangano, the Italian star of "Bitter Rice," are talking contract. . . . John Dall, before the local opening of "The Man," spent a week studying his lines in a room at the Y.M.C.A. To avoid "The Woman" . . . Marta Toren and U.I. are talking about a remake of "Camille."

Ronald Reagan's new heartbeats is Betty Underwood, a New York socialite. . . . Keefe Brasselle and Diana Lynn in Ben Hecht's "Miracle in the Rain" is in the talking stages. Keefe, now at M-G-M, still owes Anson Bond one film. . . . Joan Davis is deserting Hollywood for New York TV and a possible Broadway musical.

Izvestia Criticizes Composer Stravinsky

MOSCOW (AP)—An article in Izvestia today condemned composer Igor Stravinsky as "a frantic preacher of bourgeois modernism." It said: "Really the works of this homeless cosmopolitan manifest his complete spiritual emptiness." (Russian-born Stravinsky became a U.S. citizen in 1945 and now makes his home in Hollywood.)

Hospital Fracas Fatal

TRENTON, Italy (AP)—A bed-time argument among three occupants of the old men's ward of a hospital led to a fight which left one man dead and another injured. Twenty-one other persons joined in the fray. Hospital officials did not announce the cause.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Doug Fairbanks' Real Life Contains Dash Of Film Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks Jr., is a rarity among movie stars—his real life contains as much dash as his film roles.

Doug (it is difficult to call him or his father anything else) is in town for a brief whirl before returning to his various duties elsewhere. I caught up with him at his office into which he breezed with a dashing air that somehow seems real.

The actor has been absent from his presumed home base for most of the last two years and I asked him why.

"First of all," he replied, "because my creditors deem it better for me to be employed elsewhere."

It is much easier for my production company to get financing abroad. The independent producing situation here is such that you cannot make money unless you make a picture very cheaply. I don't know how to do that.

BIGGER PRODUCTION

"I'm not taking anything away from Stanley Kramer and some other independents who can make films cheaply. But I wouldn't have been able to do something like 'Champion.' My kind of picture requires a bigger production."

The second element in Doug's self-exile is what he calls his "P.D.'s"—public duties. These have included his work for CARE, the United Nations Association, plus various jobs for the Navy and the State Department.

Doug's service has netted him offers of diplomatic posts, but he has turned them down. The simple reason is that he cannot afford them. He has to work the other six months of his year in order to participate in his non-paying P.D.'s.

His picture-making for the last two years has been done abroad. He made "The Great Manhunt" and "Mr. Drake's Duck," a comedy about a duck who lays a uranium egg. Both are modern stories and they mark the first time Doug has been out of costume since 1937.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, Eng. (Reuter)—A sum of $225,000 is to be spent on modernizing the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre in this old-world town, birthplace of the world-famous playwright.

NEVADANS BET $43,310,000

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Wheels of chance spun furiously and the dice galloped madly during 1950 to bring Nevada gamblers their biggest take in history. Home folks and their visitors lost more than $43,310,000 to the legal casinos throughout the state. The gamblers' gross take in the previous record year of 1949 was about $40,500,000.

Flautist Has Feature Spot In Symphony

A flute is one of the simplest and oldest musical instruments but to play it properly it takes a lot of practice, according to Maurice John Crawford, one of Victoria's best musicians.

"Mick" Crawford will be playing for the Victoria Times—sponsored Jan. 15 symphony concert at the Royal Theatre which will feature on its program Bach's Brandenburg Concerto for solo flute, violin, piano and orchestra.

The flautist, along with Clifford Evens, concert master of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, will be one of the principal soloists in the concert.

With 20 years of playing totaling about 12,000 hours of practice and concert work behind him, Mick says he can still learn a lot about the flute. He is continually practicing and studying the art of playing one of the world's oldest musical instruments.

MUCH-TRAVELED MUSICIAN

"Mick" has an interesting musical career which has taken him to many parts of the world. He began with the Vancouver Kitsilano Boys' Band which made two European tours in 1934 and 1936. The band also played at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933 and the San Francisco Golden Gate Fiesta in 1937.

During the war he was a member of "Meet the Navy" orchestra which toured Europe and Great Britain. After the war he joined the Victoria Symphony and at the same time seriously studied music under Nicholas Fiore, one of the best flautists on the continent.

The symphony program will also feature Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2 for piano and orchestra. Marian Grudeff, one of Canada's outstanding pianists, will be soloist.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

There is practically no such thing as an unbeatable contract, as long as there is any sort of guess in the hand. The play may develop in some peculiar way, and suddenly what seems like an absolute cinch turns out to be a problem.

The hand shown today, played in a team event, is a case in point.

The bidding was substantially the same in both rooms. Six hearts was an optimistic contract, perhaps, but not unreasonable.

In the first room South won the opening lead with the ace of spades. He led to the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of diamonds, and ruffed a diamond to regain the lead. He then drew the rest of East's trumps.

This declarer next led a club to dummy's king, and East won with the ace. East returned a diamond, and South ruffed. Declarer then led a spade to the king and returned a club in order to finesse the ten. This finesse succeeded of course, and the slam contract was therefore fulfilled.

There was nothing to the hand, apparently. Declarer must finesse for the ten of clubs, and the finesse succeeded.

In the other room the play was not so open-and-shut. South won the opening lead with the ace of spades and proceeded, as in the other room, to cash both red aces, ruff a diamond, and draw trumps.

Then this South decided to lead an extra trump in the hope of squeezing West. He succeeded only too well.

When South finally led a club, and East took the ace, East returned a diamond to make South ruff. By this time West had only two spades and two clubs, and he discarded the nine of clubs.

South led a spade to dummy's king, discovering that West had the last missing spade and therefore only one club. Declarer reasoned that West's remaining club must be the jack since his earlier discard had been the nine of clubs.

He therefore led a club and played the queen from his hand—only to discover that West's remaining club was the eight. East took the setting trick with the jack of clubs, not without a murmur of thanks to his partner.

Burgess Bedtime Story

By watching others if you choose
You much may gain and nothing lose.
—Croaker the Raven.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Croaker the Raven is Blacky the crow's big cousin. He lives on the Great Mountain. He doesn't go down to the sunny south to spend the winter. Like the Lightfoot the Deer and Flatthorn the Moose, and all the green forest folks in fur, he spends the winter in the north, no matter how cold and stormy it may be.

Now it isn't easy for Croaker to get a meal when everything is covered with snow and ice. He does have to eat, you know. Croaker can starve just like anybody else. So Croaker has to use his eyes and his wits every minute he is awake. He just cannot afford to miss any chance of getting a dinner.

Long ago Croaker, being the biggest member of one of the smartest families in all the great world learned to use other eyes as well as his own. The way to do that is to watch other people. They often will lead you to things that otherwise you would have known nothing about. This morning Croaker was sitting in the top of a tall tree trying to make up his mind which way to start his morning hunt. It was at the foot of the Great Mountain, deep in the woods. As he sat there looking this way and that he saw a brown form leap from one treetop to another. Croaker's eyes opened a little wider than usual, if that were possible.

"Now what is that fellow doing down here?" muttered Croaker.

It was Spite the Marten. He had come down from the great woods higher up on the Great Mountain. Now he stretched out on a big limb to rest while he tried to make up his mind which way to go. He didn't see Croaker and Croaker took care not to draw his attention. Croaker sat perfectly still and never took his eyes from Spite.

NEITHER MOVED
For quite a while Spite did not move. Neither did Croaker. "That fellow is a long way from home," thought Croaker. "Yes, sir, that fellow is a long way from home. He must have found it hard living up on the Great Mountain just as I have. Spite is a good hunter. If there is a dinner to be caught he will catch it. I'll just keep an eye on him."

"Now what is that fellow doing down here," muttered Croaker.

After a while Spite got to his feet. He couldn't make up his mind whether to go into the Green Forest or back up on the Great Mountain. Then suddenly his mind was made up for him. From far away, faint in the distance came a sound that caused Spite to prick up his ears. Then he bounded away through the treetops.

Croaker had heard that sound, too. It was the voice of Chatterer the Red Squirrel. Croaker spread his black wings. "Spite is going after him," thought Croaker.

SPITE DIDN'T KNOW
So Croaker flew along over the treetops, but all the time he took great care to keep far enough back of Spite to be sure that Spite didn't know he was being followed.

The farther they went the louder sounded the voice of Chatterer. His tongue was going as only the tongue of one who likes to hear the sound of his own voice can. He was scolding. He was calling somebody names. He was daring somebody to catch him.

"Maybe I ought to hurry and get there first," thought Croaker. "I am hungry enough to swallow that squirrel whole."

Spite the Marten was thinking that same thing.

Quebec C.C.F. Blames Gov't. For 'Inflation'

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec provincial council of the C.C.F. today blamed "bungling policies" of the federal government for the inflationary trend in Canada and called for immediate imposition of price and rent controls and a tax on excess profits.

The council, in a statement issued following a meeting here, called for:

1. Full-scale price controls to halt living costs which have climbed "nine times in 11 months."
2. Extension of rental controls due to be abandoned March 31 and a return to the controls Canada had in wartime.
3. Reimposition of the wartime tax on excess profits.

ON YOUR DIAL

Mrs. Mae H. Bell, Liverpool, Queen's Co., Nova Scotia, attended a party a few months ago and in the course of her conversation with some other women told how she had relieved arthritic pain by taking SARNAK, after having suffered with the pain for almost three years. Two of the women suffered with arthritis themselves and when Mrs. Bell spoke of SARNAK and her own experience, they told her she should have us publish her own statement, so here, in her own words, is what Mrs. Bell has to say:

"I suffered from arthritic pain for three years and last spring suffered pain so much in my shoulder, arm, fingers and ankles that I could hardly stand it. I tried different kinds of pills and medicines but nothing gave me relief. Then a friend told me to try SARNAK. I took eight bottles of SARNAK and almost from the beginning I had relief. Now I wouldn't be without SARNAK in the house and I am glad to tell everyone what SARNAK has done to bring me relief."

YES, YOU SHOULD TRY SARNAK

... as have thousands of others in Canada who suffer from rheumatic, neuritic and arthritic pain, sciatica, backache, lumbago or neuralgia, some minor forms of kidney and liver upsets, bilious dizziness, nutritional anemia, lack of vitality and nervousness caused by these symptoms. SARNAK is so effective for aches and pains and general run-down condition that you usually get results within the first few days. Make up your mind to give SARNAK a chance to help you as it has helped thousands of others who had gone on day after day suffering. Thousands of bottles of SARNAK are sold every day in Canada. Remember, there are no substitutes for SARNAK. Always insist on the genuine SARNAK. In some rural sections where there are few drug stores, SARNAK may be difficult to obtain. Don't pay anyone more than $1.35 a bottle. Order by mail from your druggist or mail order house to assure yourself not paying grey market prices. If one druggist does not have SARNAK, try another. ## What's Your Opinion?

By IRVING STRICKLAND AND DAVE STOCK
What happened to your New Year's resolutions?

Mrs. Betty Latimer, 1111 Chapman Street, stenographer at B.C. Power Commission—"I forgot them as soon as I made them. I resolved to get up on time; to press my clothes the night before I wore them, and to write my mother once a week. I made a couple more—what were they? I told you I forgot them as soon as I made them."

Roger Monteith, 2272 Oak Bay Avenue, proprietor of sporting goods store—"You've hit me on a tough day. It's my birthday, so some of my resolutions have gone to blazes. I always make a resolution, though, to catch a few more fish than last year and to crowd in more shooting. I've been fishing for 55 years. Started when I was a boy. I've been hunting already this year. Went Brant hunting at Sidney Spit the other day and had my limit by 9 o'clock."

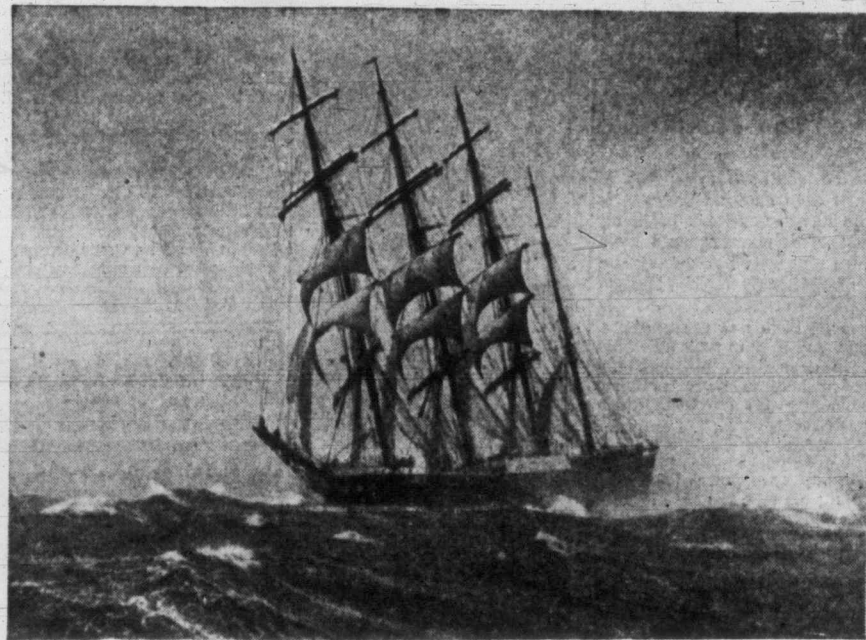

Shirley Corry, 888 Dunsmuir Street, grade 9 student at Esquimalt High School—"I didn't make any because I can never keep them. I used to make them but I found I didn't get anywhere with them. Some of the girls make long lists of resolutions but I don't think they actually keep many of them. Really, I don't think they keep any at all."

Bob Montgomery, assistant accountant at Rithet Consolidated Limited—"I resolved to give some of these older drivers a break but if they insist on weaving from one side of the road to the other, and if they insist on turning corners without giving hand signals, and if they insist on making left-hand turns from the extreme right side, then they've had it. I won't spare the brakes. The police should do something about some of the drivers around this place."

Mrs. Julie Miller, who lives at 16 Menzies Street, and who is head girl at Ten O Two Coffee Shop—"I didn't make any New Year's resolutions. I was so good last year, I'm going to be a bad kid all year long in 1951."

Jack Phillion, 10 Phillion Place, shoe repairman at A. L. Stevenson's—"I didn't make any of the usual-type resolutions. I had no need to. I don't smoke and I don't drink. I've resolved though to compete again for the Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas home lighting trophy. I won it last month. I'll try to win it again this year with a bigger and better display even though last December's light bill was double what it usually is. Next Christmas, I think I'll sell tickets to all the people wanting to see it."

Traveled Speaker
Sir Louis Beale, K.C.M.G., C.B.E., LL.D., will be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club of Victoria on Jan. 17 at 12:15 in the Empress Hotel. His subject will be "Canada's Role in a Changing World."

Last Of Windjammers Headed For Scrap-Heap

Dramatic picture of four-masted barque Pamir was taken off Cape Flattery from Victoria tug Snohomish which had towed her to sea after last call to this coast in 1946. Hugh Frith snapped picture in 50-mile-an-hour gale.

Scrapping Last Of Windjammers Severs Romantic Link On Victoria Waterfront

When the Aorangi sailed from this port last week, it marked the end of an era. Now word has been received here that the last link with a still more romantic age is about to be severed. The New Zealand barque, Pamir, said to be last of the windjammers, has been sold and, with her sister ship, the Passat, will be broken up in a Belgian shipyard.

The ship drew many a gaze along the Victoria waterfront in 1945 and 1946 when she made three trips to this coast. Local tugs, the Snohomish and Island Commander, used to tow her to the open ocean off Cape Flattery. The four-masted barque, built in Hamburg, Germany, in 1905, was one of the famous "Flying P" ships designed for speed. She was 331 feet long with a 46-foot beam and 3,203 gross tonnage.

RECORD-BREAKING VOYAGE
In 1925 she broke the outward-bound record round Cape Horn, making the trip from New Zealand to the Thames in 80 days. In 1939 she won the grain race from Australia.

In recent times she has served as a grain warehouse in England. At times the picturesque barque attained a speed of 15 knots, due to expert manoeuvring of her 34,000 square feet of sail. The Pamir was taken over by Italians as a war prize after the First World War, was repurchased by her original owners and later sold to Finnish interests. She was in the harbor at Wellington, N.Z. in 1942 when Finland went to war and was seized by New Zealand and sailed under that Dominion's flag.

St. Barnabas' Rector Appointed Canon By Bishop

Bishop Harold E. Sexton has appointed Rev. Eric Munn, B.A., rector of St. Barnabas' Church, Victoria, as an honorary canon of Christ Church Cathedral and a member of the Cathedral Chapter. Canon Munn was formally invested by the bishop Sunday before the morning service. Canon Munn is keenly interested in the maintenance and improvement of the Camp Columbia and in the devotional preparation of candidates for Holy Orders.

The bishop has also conferred the title of canon on Rev. H. T. Archibald, M.A., rector of St. John's, Duncan, in recognition of his long service in the diocese, and for his services as an examining chaplain.

Good Progress On School Building

Construction of new schools from the province's $10,000,000 construction "tree" planted last year is continuing to ripen. Education Minister W. T. Straith and Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald will go to Mission on Wednesday to officiate at the official opening of the new four-room Edwin S. Richards School.

The new Mission school, named after an early settler of the district, is a standard-type school with an "activity" room in addition to four classrooms.

$200 Fire Damage

Saanich firemen this morning put out a basement fire at the home of W. E. Salter, 2930 Austin Avenue. About $200 damage was done. An overheated coal oil stove was blamed for the fire.

Official Sets Out Policy Of Ratepayers

In defence of Sydney Pickles, candidate for reeve in Central Saanich, Charles T. D. Whitehouse, secretary-treasurer of Ward Six Ratepayers' Association, said that to his knowledge Mr. Pickles had never presented any of his plans as having the endorsement of the association.

"I fail to see that any press report has inferred that the ratepayers' association has endorsed any candidate's plan," he said. "The association is non-partisan. It was decided by the executive that the association should not sponsor any candidate or candidate's program."

"Mr. Pickles, president, recommended this policy to the executive, claiming that the perpetuation of the association to assist the new municipality in years to come was most essential," Mr. Whitehouse said. "This, of course, does not preclude any individual member of the association from supporting a candidate or program."

Oak Bay Sells Power, Phones To Companies

Power and telephone distribution systems in the Uplands have been sold to the B.C. Electric Co. and the B.C. Telephone Co., respectively, by Oak Bay municipality.

Cost to each company was $1. The provincial cabinet today approved the by-law under which the transaction was carried out.

"It was an unusual situation which was merely straightened out," an Oak Bay official said.

The utility companies operated the systems under a 20-year lease from the municipality from April, 1929, till last April.

Oak Bay benefits from the deal, since it had been partly responsible for maintenance of existing equipment, and for provision of power and telephone services to new houses.

Plan To Remove All Gas Controls

Government Intends To Lift Regulation On Retail Price

A further step has been taken in the government's plan to remove controls from the petroleum industry. It was learned from an authoritative source today, decision to eliminate a set margin of profit for distributors in the sale of gasoline has been reached.

Chinese Receive New Order With Mixed Feelings

New Immigration Law Benefits Few

Chinese Canadians of Victoria received with mixed feelings today the news that a new federal order-in-council would now allow entry into Canada children of Canadian citizens of Asiatic stock under 21 years of age.

Previously only wives and unmarried children under 18 of Asiatic citizens could come to Canada.

While the Chinese population was pleased that the government had relaxed the Chinese Immigration Act, they felt that few of their numbers would benefit. "Passing a law and putting it into effect are two different matters," explained a Chinese citizen. "I doubt very much if many Canadian Chinese will gain anything from the new regulation."

He claimed that while the government was busy relaxing regulations, immigration officials in Hongkong, the port of departure for Chinese bound for Canada, were busy tightening up other regulations and were making it impossible for the majority of children to join their fathers in Canada.

"Immigration officials in Hongkong are given such wide discretionary powers that wives and children of Canadian Chinese are being refused entry into this country for technical reasons."

He said at least one-third of the Chinese population were now Canadian citizens but few so far had managed to get even their wives into Canada.

The only control the government intends to maintain is on the number of outlets for sale of car "products." This will be accomplished through the setting of high standards to be complied with before a license to operate a service station is granted.

It was reported by the Victoria Times last week the plan was to remove the controls only from the wholesale price of gasoline with continued assurance to distributors of a five-cent-per-gallon spread.

Since then, however, it is understood the plan is to undertake virtual complete lifting of controls at the 1951 session of the Legislature, which opens Feb. 20.

DISTRIBUTORS OPPOSED
Oil companies have been seeking this action. Majority of the distributors are opposed.

The service station operator predicts gas price wars if all controls are removed, and they say the cutting of prices will mean ruin for some distributors.

The price wars will only benefit the consumer at infrequent intervals, they say. Basic price of gasoline undoubtedly will be increased by the oil companies, and the granting of concessions to some service stations will allow price cuts now and then in efforts to increase volume of business.

Seeks City Grant
A request for a grant of $6,500 for 1951 was made to the city today by Frances Mallek, president of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

She stated owing to lack of accommodation in the hospitals the order has been caring for a larger number of patients in their own homes, which required "very heavy nursing."

Windows Broken

Police reported today five panes of glass were broken by stones in the Presbyterian Church on Stanley Avenue during the week-end.

BRACE AND BIT BURGLAR GETS $50 FOR EFFORTS

The "brace-and-bit burglar" was at work again during the week-end. He bored his way into two stores and netted $50 in cash.

The burglar got the money from the cash register drawers at the Old Country Shoe Store, 635 Johnson Street. Nothing was missing from the Central Barber Shop, 1319 Broad Street, also entered.

In both cases the brace and bit was used to carve holes large enough to enable the thief to put a hand in and unlock the doors. Last week two Douglas Street shops and one Pandora Avenue shop were entered in the same manner.

Ernie Peden of Scott and Peden premises on Cormorant Street reported to police that the store and warehouse were entered. Nothing was taken.

Mrs. T. Rennie and A. Urquart, 3228 Willow Street, reported theft of a quantity of tools from their boat moored near the Johnson Street Bridge.

'Keep Mail Moving,' Says Sailor, Back From Korea

A young sailor who left the Canadian destroyer Cayuga off the west coast of Korea last Wednesday was in Victoria today with a few words for families, friends and sweethearts of the shipmates he left behind.

"Tell them to keep writing often—and parcels are always welcome," said 19-year-old AB. Eric Udle of St. John's, Nfld., en route home on 30-day compassionate leave to visit his seriously-ill mother.

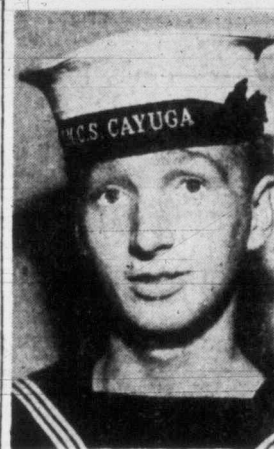

"I'd be wing-ding now if it wasn't for the mail I got. It helps keep the guys' morale up," explained the blonde seaman who flew from Tokyo to Vancouver by Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT
"The fellows wanted me to tell the folks at home they have nothing to worry about. They all send love and greetings," Eric said.

A messmate of mine, L.S. Charlie Moore sends his love to his wife and two kids," he continued. (Mrs. Moore and her young son and daughter live at 1205 Duke Street in Victoria.)

Getting back to the important topic of mail, the veteran of 18 months in the navy—the last six in the Orient—said Cayuga gets mail once or twice a week—whenever another ship arrives from a port where mail has been sent.

The quiet-spoken sailor, with a broad Newfoundland twang, had some words of praise for the senior Canadian navy officer in the Korean theatre—Capt. J. V. Brock, skipper of Cayuga. "He really knows his stuff," was the seaman's comment.

AB. ERIC UDLE

Thank You Letters
On Next Week's Agenda

By PENNY SAVER

When I phoned my good friend Mabel Slapsaddle this morning, I interrupted a very serious moment in life of her son Junior. Seems that he... with gentle persuasion of mama's wooden spoon... was in the throws of thank-you-letter writing. Mabel informed me that because this was the first year his penmanship would mean anything to anyone, other than a couple of squirrels, he had two great aunts and four uncles on his list.

"Mind you," she added, "it takes some one with a whip on the hip to stand over me while I perform the annual writing of notes. I had to agree with Mabel. You've probably solved by attaching a moth ball ring or package to the inside of the plastic bag."

This latest addition to the counter of plastic ware is available in the $3.79 and $3.98 sizes. The 18 by 12-inch cardboard envelope holds the crystals and can be taken out to be replaced by a 50-cent refill. Beware all moths!

Snap fasteners that will take their place on anything from shower curtains, children's clothes, and your sports togs. They're laundry proof, rust proof and as easy to apply to cloth as a bottle cap on Junior's jacket.

There are three pieces to consider. The pronged affair... it can be pushed through material with the rubber end of a pencil... the "socket" and stud, presto, bingo, you've got a snap fastener... and for 39 cents you've a dozen of them!

Tip to the shopper, department: Parsnips are a popular winter vegetable and the flavor is not fully developed unless they have been exposed to a temperature near freezing. A good parsnip is smooth, straight, small or medium in size. Very large parsnips are apt to be woody. Flabby or shrivelled parsnips are usually fibrous and pithy.

SLIMMING DIET—7TH DAY

Weigh Yourself To Check
Results Of Week's Diet

Mr. Mrs. or Miss Overweight: Here's another installment of a seven-day New Year's diet brought to you...

Today is the day the scales may tell you the results of your first week of dieting. Before you check your weight, here's a word of warning. Some people clip off pounds at a steady rate. Others are apt to shed pounds in sporadic spurts.

If you belong to the group of stubborn losers, you may find that you have not banished the two pounds you expected to get rid of this week. Don't let that discourage you.

Continue the diet—varying the foods as you wish (remember to check caloric and nutritional values of substitutes)—as long as you need to in order to slim down. You're reminded now to weigh yourself only once a week. For an accurate check-up of weight loss, mount the scales at the same time of day, the same day of the week.

SEVENTH DAY'S DIET

Breakfast—1 orange, 1 poached egg, 1 thin slice whole wheat toast, ½ pat butter, coffee with milk, no sugar.

Luncheon—2 slices pot roast or lean beef, chopped vegetable salad with tomato, lettuce, cucumber, celery, ½ C. cooked carrots, glass of milk, 3 unsweetened, stewed apricots.

Dinner—1 C. clear tomato soup, 2 broiled hamburgers, 8 asparagus tips, ½ C. string beans, baked apple, spices but no sugar, tea or coffee with milk, no sugar.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Husband Insists Wife Unfaithful; Would Lie-Detector Test Convince Him Of Loyalty?

Dear Mary Haworth: I am a heartbroken wife, desperately in need of guidance. Paul and I have been married five years, and all through our married life he has accused me of being unfaithful. There is no foundation for his charges, as I have been completely true to him since we married; but he says he bases his suspicions "on the word of somebody else." If I go downtown during the day, he thinks the worst.

Now again he is accusing me of adultery. He said it depends upon my answer, as to whether we shall live together as man or wife, or just as friends. He said if I confessed that I was untrue to him, he would try to get advice on where our marriage had failed, and how we could get along together. I told him that even with that assurance, I couldn't say I was unfaithful, when I wasn't. I said I was innocent of his charges and must speak the truth even if our marriage dissolves.

He then said he doesn't love me any more; doesn't believe I am true to him or even will be; but that he wants me to live with him as a friend and keep the home together for our two sons; and when he gets out of debt he will decide what he wants to do. I feel I can't live like this, and will do anything to establish my innocence. I've told Paul I am willing to take a lie-detector test; and he says if the test proves him wrong, he believes he could love me again.

I desperately want to stay married to Paul, because I love him very much. So will you please advise me how to make arrangements for a lie-detector test to prove my innocence? C. V.

MAN'S DEFENSIVE AGAINST INTIMACY

Dear C. V.: Doubtless due to intolerably painful tensions associated with emotional insecurity in early life, your husband is profoundly convinced that nobody loves him; that nobody can; indeed that nobody ever has. And what he means by "nobody" is the mother, or mother-substitute, the role you occupy in his clouded imagination.

That's why he insists that you are untrue to him. He cannot believe your heroic devotion is real. He's compulsively disposed to suspect it is sham.

Or even if he has fleeting moments of awareness that you are true-blue, he instinctively ducks the challenge of your open-hearted allegiance to him. He is so poorly prepared to share in the defenceless experience of mutual love—because inwardly so bereft of self-esteem—that the possibility of unreserved psychological intimacy panics him. It throws him terribly on the defensive. He's got to maintain a barrier somehow, and he does it by charging you with infidelity, aiming thus to absolve himself of "obligation" to be loving.

Jungle-Styled London Fashion Show Prompted By 'King Solomon's Mines'

LONDON (CP)—To the beat of a tom-tom by a Zulu warrior, a slinky black figure stepped in to the limelight wreathed in the menacing coils of a mamba snake.

The scene was London's west-end, and the occasion, a jungle-styled fashion show inspired by "King Solomon's Mines" Stewart Granger's first Hollywood-starring film.

At a special showing, British designers gave fashion-concepts of various scenes in the film. Stewart's film fight with a mamba was the background for a dress wreathed from knees to neck in the curling coils of a life-like snake. With low-cut neckline, slim leg-of-mutton sleeves, its figure-hugging lines ending in a trumpet-whirl, the black dress had the wicked look of a sinuous jungle plant.

A somewhat pantomime effect was given by stove-pipe leopard-printed velvet lounging slacks, the stocking-tight legs of which made one look for a tall. Combined with wide-sleeved mustard-yellow blouse, brown waistcoat, brown slipper-pumps and mustard ankle-socks, the outfit was finished with cheeky leopard bonnet and gloves.

ATTRACTIVE COAT

Ocelot was the inspiration for a seven-eighths-length wool coat of black and white check. The softly-flared skirt showed one-eighth of slim, black skirt which in turn matched the deep, winged coachman cuffs of the wide dolman sleeves and the high Elizabethan-stand collar. Long black gloves and a square-placed beret hat without decoration gave effective finish.

The deadly-looking spider which, in the film, crawled on the dress of Deborah Kerr—Stewart's leading lady—served as a model for the sequin spider's web covering the front of a strapless, wide-skirted taffeta evening gown.

A natty three-piece ensemble in sand-colored Barthele was the designer's answer to the long trek across burning desert in search of the mines. Combined with a picture hat of Osprey, modeled on a native shield, it made a graceful picture.

A live monkey was one of the accessories carried to off-set a smartly-styled hat and coat of monkey fur. There were also leopard, pony and springbok coats and one of the eye-catching dresses was a ballet-length "tiger" dress.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Col and Mrs. Thomas M. Knox have returned to their Newport Avenue home after spending the holiday season with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Knox, Portland, Oregon.

In Saskatoon to attend the marriage of her son John H. L. Gillis to Kathleen Agnes Strickland at St. Joseph's Church, was Mrs. Hugh Gillis, Foul Bay Road. Others who attended the wedding were Mrs. Beatty Martin, Mrs. McMurtry, Mr. Sandy MacPherson, all of Regina and Miss Sheila Spicer, Vancouver.

Mrs. Edith Davis and her daughter Margaret, came from Morin Heights, Que., to spend the holiday season with relatives in Victoria. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Christie, Beach Drive, for several weeks and are now staying with a brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thomson, Central Avenue.

For Nursing Home—It was reported at a recent meeting of Camosun Chapter, I.O.D.E., that the usual cookie donation and two quilts valued at $10 were given to Victoria Nursing Home. Mrs. A. Mainprize presided and it was announced that six articles, valued at $5.50 were turned in to Municipal Chapter during December. Reports also showed hampers to the value of $20 given out during the holidays. Mrs. J. R. Campbell, Empire study convener, gave a talk on the new House of Commons and "The Search for Beauty." Mrs. G. W. C. MacNeill reported candies and a book sent to adopted schools, valued at $5.

Victoria Man Travels To Saskatoon To Claim Bride, Agnes Strickland

Saskatoon's St. Joseph's Church was scene of a wedding of interest here when John Hugh Larkin Gillis claimed as his bride, Kathleen Agnes Strickland, of that city.

Rev. Richard Griffin united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Philip Strickland, Saskatoon, and son of Mrs. Hugh Gillis, 635 Foul Bay Road, Victoria.

The bride repeated her vows in a gown of lustrous ivory satin fashioned with full, cowed neckline, fitted bodice, lily point sleeves and a full circular skirt that extended into a train. An ivory tulle veil, edged with dainty heirloom lace misted from a snug headband. Her father gave her in marriage.

Quartette of attendants were Mrs. Bonner Aust, London, Ont., sister of the bride, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Mrs. E. Merchant and Mrs. Derrick England, Saskatoon, and Miss Sheila Spicer, Vancouver. They chose identical gowns of period design, styled with hooped skirts, in shades from gold to cocoa brown. With their gowns they wore matching braided head-dresses. They carried spray bouquets of roses and carnations encircled with ribbons to match their gowns.

Best man was M. A. MacPherson Jr., Regina, Sask., and ushers were Philip W. Strickland, Chatham, Ont.; E. Bonner Aust, London, Ont.; and Derrick J. England, Saskatoon.

During the ceremony Gene Phillips sang Bizet's "Angus Dei" and while the couple signed the register Schubert's "Ave Maria."

At a reception held at the home of the bride's parents the couple received guests before a fireplace banked with bowls of pink carnations, and mauve and pink chrysanthemums. Table was set with wedding cake, floral and candle centrepiece in pastel motif. Harold McIvor Weir proposed the toast.

For a honeymoon trip to Windsor, through the southern United States and California, the bride changed into a brown tailored suit complemented with turquoise hat and accessories, and squirrel cape.
